HURT IN THRILLING RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Graphically Described by Our Special Correspondent on the Spot—Parker Danenhower and Wife of Southampton, Victims.

On Sunday afternoon about four o'clock, while Parker Danenhower of Southampton, was attempting to put the bridle on his bay mare at Poplar Park, Neshaminy Falls, the animal became frightened and sheered abruptly, starting away at a gallop along the upper and main travelled road leading toward Trevose. Mrs. Danenhower had already gotten into the light runabout and watched her husband during the hitching process and was ready to receive the lines, but with rare presence of mind clung tightly to the seat, notwithstanding the danger which confronted herself, and Mr. Danenhower, who, clinging tenaciously to the animal's mane in the endeavor to stop the terrified beast, was dragged over the protruding and jagged stones which had been laid bare by the late and copious rains. Yet she was horror stricken in a bare minute by seeing her courageous spouse lose his hold and grate toward the roadside. Fortunate, indeed, that she did not know the extent of his fall which afterward proved to be a broken clavicle on the left side, Nor did she then see, by the grace of equal mercy, the crimson flow upon her husband's garments. But following faithfully those admonitory cautions, uttered frantically by the now prostrate man, she turned her attention forward and sought to find an opportunity to escape from the rapidly moving vehicle, urged onward with accelerating speed by its galloping steed.

From the point where they started until Scottsville was reached, the distance is about a mile, and during this tremendous pace, Mrs. Danenhower endeavored, by elevation of voice and sundry command, to reassure the horse and check his speed. As well speak to the vacant air, for, with stiffened ears, front face, the frightened beast fairly flew along. Imagine her plight—this horsewoman, now crouched upon the swaying seat and now half risen, or cowering to her feet. What if she should meet a pleasure party coming indolently from the opposite direction? There would be a collision in the narrowing right of way. Yet other and greater fears now assailed her, and they were that the runabout might become overturned on the down grade west of Scottsville, or the steeper one beyond which leads from Simpson's Grove to the heart of Trevose. And, more hazardous than any, was the sharp decline of the Street road bring between the store of A. M. Moyer and the high bridge over the railroad tracks, where, if overturned, she would be very seriously injured if not killed. At best the outlook was perilous in the extreme and she planned to jump. And as she came to this conclusion she bravely set one foot upon the step and sprang forward, being much shaken and bruised in her fall, but cared for by those who came promptly to her relief.

Meanwhile the animal sped on, thundering down the hill, over the level ground, laboring across a short incline and away again through Simpson's Grove, with lathered flanks and panting sides, the day being very warm without breeze to mitigate the heat. The many cottagers heard the clattering runabout and, turning, viewed with amazement the bridleless horse, and although attempts were made to head the animal they were unavailing. One curious part of the unique spectacle was the energetic swinging back and forth of a gold hunting case watch, attached to a chain, which was securely fastened in the top pocket of Mr. Danenhower's coat. Fortunately for the beast, however, and the avoidance of damage to the vehicle, the turn was not made at Moyer's corner, but the straight road was traversed until Tomlinson's bridge was reached. There the sharp angle was well turned and with speed somewhat lessened the runaway horse headed for Somerton.

The crowd at the park of the Trevose Athletic Association were intently watching some absorbing plays in the ninth inning, when the rattling of the runabout and the pounding of the horse's hoofs attracted their attention. Instantly there was a general stampede toward the road. Seeing the crowd the frightened mare headed herself for the fringe of wood where automobiles and other conveyances were located, and, swerving sharply, she was about to plunge under a large gray horse, attached to a top buggy in which sat the owner. And now came the most dramatic event of the entire episode, as, without hesitation, the latter animal reared himself splendidly, cleanly upon his haunches, bending the dashboard in his noble effort, and thus the mare and its runabout traveled rapidly under. The excitement was tremendous at this juncture and there was great cheering and hats sailed upward in approval.

Making another turn, and starting backward along the road whence it came, the mare was captured by Howard Sickel, of Trevose, who, as "The Man of the Hour" was also "Johnny on the Spot." After affairs had quieted somewhat Thomas Tomlinson, whose farm adjoins, came with a bridle, etc., and presently Mr. Sickel started forward, inquiring from time to time of people along the way the direction from which the runaway had come. After going some distance he met an automobile containing Mr. Danenhower, bandaged and blood stained, and Mrs. Danenhower, who, trembling with the frights she had received and the injuries of her falling by the roadside, was bearing up very bravely, indeed. Both were most profuse with their grateful acknowledgements to the brave captor of the mare, and desire at this time to thank all who contributed, or tried to do so, in its capture. They proceeded onward to Southampton in the auto, while Mr. Sickel followed more slowly in the runabout.

ABINGTON

GOVERNOR'S PARTY BROKE MOTOR SPEED LAW.

According to Chief Lever, of the Abington police, a car owned by the State and occupied by Governor Tener thrice broke the speed law on Sunday a week, while passing through that township along the Old York road. The car in which the Governor with a party of friends was riding was No. 34,734.

At the time Governor Tener and party were on their way to attend the exercises at the National Farm School, near Doylestown, and in the way the excessive speeding was caught by Chief Lever, himself, and by Kenny, of the automobile squad. On the way back to town they also caught the number and he declares the car was going far beyond the legal rate.

Chief Lever at once sent a warning notice to Harrisburg. The Governor says he did not know the car was running so fast and that he had no intention of violating the law. The matter will be allowed to drop without any prosecution of the case.

WILL CONTROLLER.

Some Montgomery County Officials Kick Over Traces.

John Jacobs of Lansdale, who was appointed by Governor Tener to organize the controller's office in Montgomery county is at odds with the Coroner and the Board of Poor Directors, all of whom are a part of the Republican organization. The controller has issued notice that he will approve no more bills for tobacco for the inmates of the county almshouse, and that if the inmates want tobacco they must pay for it. Two of the poor directors and Solicitor Styer say that they will purchase tobacco for the poor. The controller cut in half the Coroner's bills for several months and disallowed bills rendered by the Coroner's physician, Dr. A. H. Read, of Norristown.

SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

The twenty-first annual commencement of the Moreland Township High schools was held in the Methodist church last Thursday evening, and from start to finish was a success. The auditorium of the church was beautifully decorated with growing plants, flowers and bunting and the class motto, "Vincit omnia virtis." The church was crowded to the doors and the following program was rendered:

March, invocation, Rev. E. H. Hoffman; salutatory, Russell Lightcap; girls' chorus, "Merry June," Vincent; recitation, Esther Leedom; class prophecy, Emma Bolleau; chorus,(a) "Santa Lucia," (b) "Merry Life," Italian; class will, Alma Schuck; essay, Ruth Webster; recitation, Miriam Holt; Music, "Barcarolle," Offenbach; class presentations, Ellen Marple; valedictory, Florence Rush; chorus, "In Spain," Vincenzo Di Chiara; address, Dr. Charles L. Seasholes; presentation of diplomas and certificates, Rev. Mr. Davis; class song, benediction, Rev. E. H. Hoffman.

It is impossible to say which was the best, they all were so very good, and the school board, teachers and graduates and audience were delighted with the essays, recitations and singing.

The orator, Rev. Charles L. Seasholes, in a most elegant manner pointed out the dangers to our country and gave some good, sound advice to the graduating class. A more elegant address was never delivered to any high school pupils and the school board is to be congratulated in their selection of the orator. The graduates were: Florence Rush, Russell Lightcap; Miriam Holt, Alma Schuck, Ellen Marple, Emma Bolleau, Ruth Webster and Esther Leedom.

Mrs. George W. Quigley has been on the sick list during the past week.

The white coating has been completed on the new addition of the Quigley store.

J. Ira Fisher has had a new cesspool dug in the rear of his store property this week.

Mrs. Rachel Lorge, of Germantown, was the guest of her brother, John G. Crawford and family, this week.

Henry Specht is erecting a new wagon shed and carpenter shop in the rear of his property on the York road.

A strawberry and ice cream festival will be held on the lawn of St. Anne's chapel next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

George M. Cope, a conductor on the trolley line, was overcome by the heat on Sunday last, which compelled him to relinquish his labors.

Patrick Frank, who seriously cut himself while cutting meat in Frank Schimpf's store last week, is slowly improving and is able to be about.

Charles M. Meredith, editor of the "Perkasie Central News," and Mrs. Meredith, were Saturday guests of the latter's cousin, J. Dyre Moyer and family.

Albert Mahan has been spending this week in Shamokin, Pa., representing Watach Tribe I. O. R. M., of this place. He writes that he is having a delightful time.

Services at St. Anne's chapel for the first Sunday after Trinity will be as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon at 11; evening prayer and sermon at 7.30.

Our post office will be placed in the third class grade after July 1st. Postmaster Triebels anticipates enlarging the building occupied by the post-office department and making other improvements.

Extensive improvements are being made to the barn and outbuildings on the premises occupied by Lewis B. Lukens on the Pirnattown road. Mr. Lukens keeps a large dairy and the improvements will increase his stabling capacities.

A game of base ball between the Willow Grove Field Club and the La Salle nine resulted in a victory for the home boys by a score of 10 to 2. The battery work of Steele and Hager was a feature of the contest. Pen Mar is the attraction this Saturday.

A mothers' meeting, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was held at the home of Mrs. H. M. Houpt, in Abington, on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Louise Baggs, principal of the Bristol schools, was present and talked to the ladies in a most entertaining and instructive manner.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Willow Grove Fire Company will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival this Saturday afternoon and evening on the fire house lawn. Music will be furnished by the fife and drum corps. The boys have also received an engagement for July 12th in Philadelphia at the Orangemen demonstration.

The funeral of Rev. W. H. Bisbing, on Wednesday afternoon, in the M. E. church, was one of the largest ever held in the village. The services were in charge of Rev. Dr. W. L. McDowell, a former Presiding Elder, who married Mr. Bisbing, when he was stationed at Willow Grove. Other clergymen who spoke were Revs. Wilmer L. Gray and W. W. Sweet, former pastors here, also Revs. George Bickley, J. P. Shock, E. H. Hoffman and Charles Wesley Burns.

WILLOW GROVE PARK. THEODORE THOMAS ORCHESTRA

Music lovers and critics find realization of their eager anticipation. Sunday last marked the return of that splendid organization of artists, needing no introduction here, the Theodore Thomas Orchestra, of Chicago.

Music lovers are attending the concerts afternoon and evening, glad of the opportunity to hear such melody.

The programs are full of the best there is in music, old and new. This season of the Thomas orchestra is all too short, but while they are here, every one should hear them.

The annual concert by the Strawbridge & Clothier chorus on Tuesday evening was very fine. Bad weather kept down the attendance. The chorus added fresh laurels to those already gained by the organization, which was assisted by capable soloists—Mrs. Russell King Miller, contralto; John Owens, tenor, and Frederic Martin, bass. Music for all the presentations was by the Theodore Thomas Orchestra, directed by Frederick Stock.

The evening presentation by the chorus comprised the first and third acts of the lyric drama, "Judith."

SLIGHT FIRE AT MOYER'S LUMBER YARD.

Quick work by the Willow Grove Fire Company prevented what might have been a serious fire in J. Dyre Moyer's lumber yard, early Sunday morning. The fire, which was probably started from sparks from a passing locomotive, was discovered by Henry Jiles, a workman employed at the power house, who was hauling coal at the time. The power house whistle was sounded and the members of the fire company with others responded promptly, and quickly extinguished the blaze, which was burning a pile of yellow pine, in a remote corner of the yard. The damage was slight, amounting to only about $25.

Russell Gheen is home from State college.

The Willow Grove-Abington W. C. T. U. will celebrate its third anniversary with a social to be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Lever, on Horace avenue, Abington, on the evening of Thursday, June 22nd, at eight o'clock. An interesting program will be prepared and it is hoped that all the members will be present, bringing many new ones with them.

Mrs. Carter Williams, died at her home on the Davisville road, on Sunday morning, aged 40 years, of paralysis. She had been ill only eight days. Her funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Jackson, pastor of the Salem Baptist church, Jenkintown, officiated. Interment at Hatboro cemetery. Mrs. Williams was one of the most active members of the McKinley Baptist church, and a lady highly esteemed.

JENKINTOWN

$50,000 MASONIC HALL

John Wanamaker Will Replace Present Structure With Handsome Building.

Until the beginning of this year the large building in Jenkintown owned by Brother and Past-master, John Wanamaker, and by him leased to the masonic fraternity at a nominal rental, was barely adequate for the large numbers assembling therein. At times, however, the commodious banqueting hall was crowded, while the lodge room was as frequently filled by several hundred members and visiting brethern. Upon a recent trip to New York, Brother Wanamaker invited a committee of the lodge to meet him on the train, and while en route the subject of a new building was discussed. The result was that a number of blue prints were made and on Wednesday night of this week the members of the lodge selected their preference. The old building will be torn down and a new one, to cost fifty thousand dollars, it is alleged, will be erected by the owner of the site. It is stated that the lodge will buy the furnishings, at an outlay of ten thousand dollars.

SHOT DOWN BY ANGRY FARM HAND

William Fotteral, Owner of Poultry Farm Near Neshaminy Falls, Victim of Attempt on Life—Now in Episcopal Hospital—Assailant Escaped—Police on Trail.

(Special to the PUBLIC SPIRIT)

Trevose, Pa., June 13, 1911

No sooner does one peruse the harrowing details of some tragic occurrence, and, laying aside the newspaper, ponder over the passions of men and entertain the hope that the awful results will deter, at least for a while, the commission of crime, than one is again startled by another calamity. The latest in this section was the shooting of William F. Fotteral, Esq., during the afternoon of Saturday last.

The dairy, poultry and fruit farm of this gentleman lies commandingly upon our southern border, with its well tilled acres, extensive orchards and aggregation of buildings peculiarly adapted for the breeding of choice fowls which are shipped in generous numbers to many nearby and distant points. So diversified is the business, in fact, that the owner has for a long time been unable to do more than attend to the advertising department, supervise the sales and manage in a general way the daily demands of the business. Accordingly, he employs a number of people, among whom are Aaron Strauss, assistant, and three farm hands. Until within a few days the latter trio was composed of a German, a Polander and another man. The last named did not report for work on Saturday morning, nor did he seem to be in the vicinity. The German was also away, he having drawn his wage on Friday and received permission to go to Eddington. However, he grew suspicious of certain actions of the third party and secretly altered his destination.

At noon on Saturday the third man appeared at the house and asked to see Fotteral. He was told that the proprietor would probably return from Philadelphia on the first afternoon train, which he did, reaching the farm about two o'clock. Strauss and the other two had gone to dinner and it was promptly ordered to him. For some reason he refused to accept it and there ensued a discussion which resulted in the angry fellow drawing two revolvers from his pockets and immediately opening fire upon his employer. The first grole of Mr. Fotteral was penetrated by one or more of the deadly missles, and it is stated that had the bullet, or bullets, gone further upward, thus entering the abdominal tract, the result would have been fatal.

The assailant immediately fled across the fields, and notwithstanding the search made for him on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, by the State constabulary, he has not been apprehended. A strange man approached the writer in Trevose at dusk on Saturday. At the time the former was surreptitiously heading for the barn, but being interviewed, abruptly with drew. It may have been the would-be assassin.

The sound of firing at Fotteral's brought the occupants of the house to the doors thereof and they were horrified at the sight, their cries accelerating the movements of the men outside who came running toward the scene. Finding the injuries very serious indeed, Doctor Ritge, of Langhorne, who was summoned especially as possible and hastened over in his auto, sent to Philadelphia for Dr. Deever, who also made a flying trip, and within a few hours the sufferer was conveyed to the Episcopal hospital, Front and Lehigh avenue.

It is impracticable at this writing to get further details of the affair, on account of the condition of the patient, whose many friends are bewailing his unfortunate predicament and who are trusting, with earnest faith, that complications will not retard his recovery. And meanwhile he has the sympathy of the general public whose pulses are again stirred at the suddenness of this occurrence and its almost fatal termination.

It is alleged that the shooting was done by one, Henry Kimey.

SCHOOL BOARD MAKES CHANGES

B. A. Kline Elected Supervising Principal at Bridgeport.

Bridgeport School Board last Tuesday night elected B. A. Kline, of North Wales, supervising principal of the public schools at a salary of $1200 a year, in place of W. N. Leaman, who has been the principal for twelve years with a salary of $1001.

Joseph J. McGinley, the retiring secretary of the board, was criticised for not ordering the school supply of coal in April, and thereby saving ten cents on each ton. It was decided to deduct the extra cost of the coal from the salary of the secretary unless he could give a valid excuse for not carrying out the board's instructions.

10 NAMES of new subscribers were added to our increasing list the past week. Watch us grow. Why not let us send you the SPIRIT for three months for 5¢ cents or six months for $1. We give the following premiums: A knife sharpener, needle case or handy clean er for one years' subscription $2.00 or will send you a letter opener or ruler for six months' advance subscription, $1.00.

POURED MILK INTO CITY SEWER

Nearly 700 Quarts, Valued at $55.20, Condemned by Health Inspectors in Philadelphia—Farmers are Losers.

Nearly 700 quarts of milk were poured down a sewer on Wednesday at the Third and Berks street, Philadelphia, station of the Reading Railroad by the Philadelphia Health Department inspectors. The milk was condemned because it did not meet with the temperature requirements. The milk was destroyed in compliance with the regulation passed on April 1 forbidding the delivery of milk in Philadelphia at a temperature higher than 60 degrees.

The milk was in 15 cans, each can holding 46 quarts, and at the price of 8 cents a quart the value was $55.20. According to Dr. Neff of the Health Bureau, two of the cans were discovered to be plugged with soap in order to keep the milk from running out through holes in the receptacles. The other 13 cans were condemned because of the temperature regulation.

The dealers the milk was assigned to will not be the losers, as the inspectors did not permit them to take it from the platform. The farmers who shipped the milk will have to stand the loss. The refusal of the railroad to supply refrigerator cars, the health inspector declared, was the cause of the condemnation. He further asserted that this matter would soon be brought to court if they did not supply the proper cars.

The milk destroyed represents the largest quantity condemned since the regulation went into effect. During the warm week of May 27, 425 quarts were condemned out of 285,920 quarts inspected.

Ogontz and Ashbourne

Dr. A. I. Hollingshead, of Ashbourne, is on a business trip to Ohio.

William Schmidt, of Ashbourne, was visiting relatives in North Wales on Sunday.

Frank Freeland, of Melrose Park, left on Wednesday for Regina Saskatchewan river, Canada.

Mrs. J. D. Lea and daughter, Gwendolin, of Elkins Park, are staying for several weeks at Atlantic City.

J. Rynol Clayton, assistant at Elkins Park station, has resigned his position and will be employed near New York City.

Chief Robert Lindsay, of the Cheltenham police, is attending the convention of Chiefs of Police, being held at Rochester, N. Y.

Michel J. Ryan, a prominent Philadelphia attorney, and family have taken the Summer's house on Ashbourne road for several months.

There is considerable interest being taken by the property owners throughout Cheltenham township in the matter of street and sewage disposal. This question is also agitating the residents of Jenkintown borough and several sections of Abington township.

The township board of health held its monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the office of the commissioners. There were several cesspool nuisances reported and steps were taken to have the nuisances abated. There were no cases of contagious diseases reported during the month, showing the township is in a healthy condition.

Class day exercises of Cheltenham High school were held in the auditorium on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good crowd present, the program was as follows: President's address, M. Lorner; class history, Ruth Williams; class poem, A. N. Schribner; prophecy, Margaret Purner, Chas. Rennpurger; presentations, Isabel Stuart, Hutchinson Comly and Robert Corrigan; music, Victrola; presentation of gift, Rourke Wallace; mantle orator, Ned Heller; junior's farewell to seniors, Townsend Sharpless; class ivy, Class flower is red rose, and colors are; George H. Lorimer, pres.; Marion Gayley, vice president; Isabel Taggart, secretary; Roy Hayworth, treasurer.

Road Engineer William MacIntyre of Cheltenham township, is finishing the macadamizing of Spring avenue from Cheltenham avenue to Prospect avenue in the Glenside district, and the resurfacing of Washington lane from Church road to the city line. The first section of this road is now under way. George D. Widdis has the contract for that portion of Washington lane, which will be taken up during last winter and spring, hauling dirt from one portion of Widener property to the other. The road was cut and a great deal of stone was scattered over the macadam. Washington lane is perhaps one of the most used highways of the township, being the line of York road and is narrow. It is one of the first roads laid out in this section. It is the intention of the township to resurface this road all the way from the City line, and it is hoped that the Philadelphia will resurface their end. The road is in bad shape and has been in bad shape for some time.

A GROWING CHURCH

Edge Hill Presbyterian Church to be Enlarged.

Extensive alterations are about to begin on the Edge Hill Carmel Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Joseph B. C. Mackie is pastor.

An additional building will be erected to meet the demand of the growing congregation. The old basement will be remodeled and turned into a gymnasium for the boys of the community, and the church will be remodeled at a cost of $10,000.

Dr. Mackie was called to the pastorate of this church two years ago, and has organized several new departments, increasing his congregation one hundred per cent. He received into the fellowship of the church 140 persons.

BUSY ASBESTOS PLANT.

As is no doubt well known to our readers, the change in political complexion of the House of Representatives in Washington, the calling of an extra session of Congress, the controversy over the Reciprocity Treaty, have all conspired to make depressed business conditions throughout the country.

In the face of dull business in the building trades, it is refreshing and encouraging to note that one of our local industries—located at Ambler—the Asbestos Shingle, Slate & Sheathing Company, has had much the largest May business in its history, the shipments of asbestos shingles during the month just closed being more than fifty per cent greater than in May of last year. These asbestos shingles are now being used upon all sorts of structures, everywhere, and largely throughout the farming districts, having been recently adopted by the United States Department of Agriculture for some of its Weather Bureau stations, the Experiment Farms at Beltsville, Maryland, the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Government of the same place, also on the stations of the United States Light House Service, while the great dairy barns of William Rockefeller, at Tarrytown, New York, and Fred Pabst, at Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, are covered with the asbestos shingles made in Ambler.

The Oak Lane Park Building Company will erect a three-story residence, 31 by 42 feet, at No. 703 Kenilworth avenue, Oak Lane, to cost $8000.

A tract of 8 1-3 acres at Horsham and Byberry road, in the Thirty-fifth ward, has been conveyed by Mary E. Roberts to Alice V. Mackenzie for $2500.

The property 517 E. Washington lane, lot 22 by 130 feet, has been conveyed by [illegible] Rossard to Eleanor L. Schultz for a nominal consideration and a mortgage of $4,500.

H. J. Morris, of Hatboro, sold the Mullen property of about three acres of ground, at Johnsville, to a man by the name of Murray, of Philadelphia. Mr. Morris only owned the property a very short time.

James G. Doak & Co., have a contract for the new buildings for the Odd Fellows' Orphanage at Chelten avenue and City line. It will be two and three stories in height, of stone, and will cost about $75,000.

Ground has been broken by the Oak Lane Building Company for the erection of a three-story stone residence at 703 Kenilworth avenue, having a frontage of 31 feet and a depth of 42 feet 6 inches. The cost will be $8,000.

The congregation of Trinity Reformed church at Norristown, will spend $35,000 in the erection of an addition to the present church, at Elm and Swede streets, and will build two parish houses. More than $30,000 has already been raised. The new church will contain a choir loft for a chorus of 60.

The large stone residence of the late William D. Kelly, at 120 East Cliveden avenue, Germantown, has been sold by William H. Wilson & Co., suburban real estate broker, to a purchaser whose name is withheld, and who will improve the property. The house occupies a lot 151 feet in front by 179 feet in depth. It was held for sale at $28,000.

Henry C. Biddle, real estate broker, of Ambler, reports the following: Sold in connection with Edgar C. Cross, of Philadelphia, a farm situate on the Church road, Springfield township, belonging to the Schriver estate, adjoining the Sims property et al, to James Wainright, of Philadelphia, who will take possession some time in the future and make improvements. This is one of the nicest farms in that section.

Three large tracts of land belonging to the Sarah E. Kindred estate, on Castor road, in the Thirty-fifth Ward, have been sold at auction by S. T. Freeman & Co. for a total consideration of $80,500. A twenty-five-acre tract on Castor road, between Cottman and Rhawn streets, sold for $15,420; one of 45 acres on the same road, between Cottman street and Five Points, $27,000 and one of 63 acres on the opposite side, $38,100.

H. J. Dager, Inc., real estate agent, Ambler, reports the following: Sold for Evelyn M. Husted of North Wales, stone house with two lots, on the Swedesford road, near the Sumneytown turnpike, Upper Gwynedd, to Joseph K. Nicholls, Esq., of Philadelphia. Also sold for Harold G. Knight, of Ambler, lot on Maple street, West Ambler, on which the double frame house was recently destroyed by fire, to Gaetano DeMarco, et al, of Ambler, who has already started the erection of a double stone house on said lot.

Ground was broken on Thursday for an operation of forty-one two-story houses at Logan for Morris Straus, to cost $62,600. The contract has been awarded to George Ruhland and provides for 30 houses, 14 by 35 feet, on both sides of Albanus street, 15 feet east of 4th street, to cost $45,000; two, 15 by 35 feet, at the northeast and southeast corners of 4th and Albanus streets, to cost $3,200, four, 16 by 35 feet on the east side of 4th street, 19 feet south of Albanus, cost $6,400, and five, 16 by 35 feet, west side of 3d street, 79 feet south of Albanus; cost $8,000.

VALUABLE HORSES KILLED

Animals Worth $1,500 Apiece and Belonging to Alexander Van Rensselaer Hit by Train.

Two coach horses belonging to Alexander Van Rensselaer, and valued at $1,500, were killed at Camp Hill crossing, near Oreland, on Monday by the Bethlehem express which leaves the Reading Terminal at 10.02 o'clock.

It is thought that the horses, which had been out in the pasture on Mr. Van Rensselaer's estate at Camp Hill, wandered through an open gate and out upon the tracks as the train approached.

At this crossing several persons have been killed in the last six or eight years. Two years ago last Christmas a coachman for Mr. Van Rensselaer and his son were killed there.

FAIL TO GET FREE DINNER

Grand Jurors Pay for Meal When They Visit Almshouse.

The Montgomery County Grand Jury, in its report to the Court on Saturday, called attention to the fact that the members had paid for their own dinner when they visited the Montgomery County Almshouse at Black Rock. This is the outcome of a complaint made by Controller Jacobs that persons who could afford and should pay for their meals when visiting the institution were getting them free.

The Grand Jury recommended the speedy erection of the House of Detention, which was approved by Judge Swartz, who remarked that the children were sleeping on the floor of the present place, and urged the building of the new house as soon as possible.

LETTER CARRIERS' OUTING AT CHESTNUT HILL PARK.

The members of Keystone branch, No. 157, National Association of Letter Carriers, are completing arrangements for their annual jubilee which will be held at Chestnut Hill Park, on June 22, 23, and 24, and a gala time is promised to all who participate.

In one of the carrousels buildings there is now installed a new $12,000 organ, imported from France, will be heard for the first time in the latest musical selections, as played by a full orchestra, the organ having all the modern attachment to attain this effect.

Many other organizations have selected Chestnut Hill Park as the ideal resort to hold their reunions, picnics and gatherings, because of the spacious groves, the many benches and seats provided, the fine restaurant, where those who do not care to take their own lunch, can procure the best in culinary art at reasonable prices, and the many amusements, all of which contribute to make time pass merrily.

Your best luck comes to you while you are behaving best.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney & Bladder Troubles & Pain In The Back

Instantly Relieved and Quickly Cured

Mr. Robert McClain, 2461 Parot street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I am very glad to tell what MATUSOW'S NULFEY (tablets) has done for me, and, if possible, convince some poor sufferer, by means of my testimonial, to give this wonderful medicine a trial. For eighteen months I suffered with rheumatism, pains in the back, cramps and cold sweats in the calves of my legs, chronic constipation and vertigo. I have been treated at six hospitals in Philadelphia, and by six different doctors, besides trying a large number of advertised patent medicines, but not one of them gave me any relief. I was recommended to try MATUSOW'S NULFEY (tablets), and I am happy to say that since using this remedy I got rid of my pain, and am no longer troubled with vertigo. My bowels move regularly without the aid of any medicine, and I feel well in every respect."

What MATUSOW'S NULFEY (tablets) did for Mr. McClain it can do for you, if you suffer from Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Neuritis, Lumbago, Uremia, Constipation, Piles or any Kidney, Liver, Bladder or Stomach trouble.

MATUSOW'S NULFEY (tablets) is a wonderful remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Paralysis, Liver, Kidney, Bladder, Stomach and Bowel troubles.

It purifies the blood and regulates the bowels. Should be investigated by all who suffer and their sufferings will end.

MATUSOW'S NULFEY (tablets) is sold and recommended by Walter Rothwell, the well-known druggist of Hatboro, Pa., and by all up-to-date druggists; also for sale (or by mail) at the Nulfey Laboratory, 29t Columbia avenue, Philadelphia.

Regulate the Bowels

"I have been troubled with constipation for several years, and have tried a great many kinds of pills, as well as medicine from the doctor. Nothing seemed to help me until I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. I found the little pills very effective, and I am thankful that at last I have a reliable remedy."

MRS. F. M. DUNKIN,
LeRoy, Ills.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

simply cause the bowels to move in a normal manner, and without the griping effects of cathartics and purgatives. That's why they are so universally used by women and children. The longer they are taken the less are needed. Natural conditions gradually being restored.

Sold by druggists everywhere. If first package does not benefit, your druggist will return your money.

MILLIONS SPENT ON N. E. BOULEVARD

Costly Work not Near Completion—Only a few Squares can be Used—Politicians Received Large Land Damages—People Along Way Inconvenienced.

Representing an outlay of several million dollars the Northeast Philadelphia Boulevard in its present state is a very good example of the haphazard methods employed by political contractors on large projects which are being paid for out of the city's funds. In 1903 city officials and Councils planned to have constructed a beautiful avenue to extend through 13 miles of thinly populated sections of the city, and in 1911, eight years later, less than 12 squares of a driveway have been completed, and what were at one time attractive portions of suburbs have been disfigured by the rough lines of an proposed boulevard which stops traffic and greatly inconveniences residents.

But one detail of the large project was completed and that was the purchase by the city of ground for the Boulevard, the most of which, peculiarly enough, was held by favored politicians and their friends. Excavations were made in order to make it appear that the work was on in earnest. The dirt was tossed in high piles, which now form a mountainous line along what was designed as a beautiful driveway.

Passengers on Old York road trolleys can see as the cars pass the north end of Hunting Park a wide avenue lined with trees, which is the beginning of the Northeast Boulevard. The avenue, however, comes to an abrupt end 12 squares further on and for the most part is only utilized by new owners of motor cars while being taught how to operate the machines by experienced chauffeurs. Since 1904 $781,727 has been paid to the Filbert Paving & Construction Company for the work so far completed, and the only real benefit the Boulevard has had been derived by the Vare Brothers, whose workmen have filled up both sides of the driveway with ashes collected in different parts of the city and sent to the Boulevard in trolley cars.

From a point a few squares from Old York road near its intersection with Broad street the paving of the Boulevard already has worn out, and weeds have sprouted up in the centre of the driveway and what are supposed to be gutters. Beyond both sides of the asphalted walks of the avenue the ground is littered with broken glass, weeds, milk cans, bottles and other articles which found their way in family ash cans and were collected by the Vares. A few tracts have been dignified with a layer of cinders, but these are few and far between.

Places for emergency tracks for the trolley cars which haul ashes have been left open so that there would be no delay in removing the tracks to the sections along the Boulevard selected as dumps. For this reason no streets have yet been cut through the portion of the avenue which has been paved, and it is therefore practically worthless. Expensive stone bridges have been constructed over single track railroad branches, but there are no approaches to the bridges, and they, too, are worthless.

There are no dwellings on either side of the stretch of the Boulevard which has been completed, and those who venture a walk or drive over the paved section are halted by a pile of timber bearing the notice "No Thoroughfare" when they reach fifth street. From Fifth street on the real damage of marking the Boulevard line was done. Residents are forced to walk many squares out of their way to reach a point, and as a result they have petitioned the Highway Bureau time after time to level the streets, but they received no satisfaction. Dwellings were razed several years ago and set back many feet to provide a site for the "improvement," where they still stand, unoccupied and practically worthless.

Just beyond the completed portion of the Boulevard stands the new Tabor Lutheran church, at the corner of Mascher and Rockland streets, south of the Boulevard line. Twenty feet in front of the edifice is the church which the congregation formerly occupied. Five years ago the city took title to the old church building and forced the congregation to purchase another site and have a new edifice erected. The new church cost $17,000 and is located near the line of the Boulevard, but it is hardly approachable. No attempt has been made to clear the ground in front of it.

The condition of what are supposed to be highways in the vicinity of the church are deplorable. Appeals to have pathways temporarily leveled were of no avail, and members of the congregation took it upon themselves to dig pathways for a radius of two squares around the edifice. Rev. Phillip Lamartine, pastor of the church, described the condition which residents in the vicinity are forced to contend with as the result of the manner in which the political contractors decided to carry out the plans of constructing the Northeast Boulevard.

"Those who do not have occasion to visit this locality," he said, "would not believe the inconvenience to which we are put. For six or seven years no attempt has been made to improve the condition of the ground which was piled up by workmen. After a heavy rain it is impossible to walk from the church except with boots on. The citizens have called upon the Mayor to ask his assistance, but secured no help; they have petitioned the Highway Bureau and implored the politicians of the ward to assist them, but with the same result.

"I have been told that the reason for this imposition is the fact that the Forty-second ward support the independent ticket too strongly and this must be the case, for it is impossible for me to see what anyone can gain from the condition of this place. In 1908 the Feltonville Public School was erected at Second and Rockland streets, and the children who live near Fifth and Sixth streets are required to climb over the unfinished bridges and hills of dirt morning, noon and afternoon.

"Scores of parents, fearing for the safety of their children, have appealed to the Highway Bureau to have a temporary path cut through, and they received a reply to the effect that the children should walk to the school by way of Wyoming avenue. Such a route would take them seven or eight squares out of their way. There is absolutely no outlet between Tabor road and Wyoming avenue for the distance of one mile."

Practically the same conditions prevail along the entire length of the boulevard. According to the plans the avenue was to extend from Broad street to Pennypack Park, a distance of 13 miles. In addition to the $1,400,000 appropriated at different times for construction alone, two loan bills provide $1,000,000 for the continuance of the project, which residents in the vicinity of the proposed avenue hope will be awarded to contractors who will complete the boulevard in sections, instead of tearing up a path and leaving it worthless.

Work on the Northeast Boulevard has been spasmodic. When an appropriation is made, gangs of men are sent to work, but they cease after a few months without an effort to make the streets passable. Not only the residents of the Tabor and Olney section are aroused at the condition which the contractors left the sections, but the residents of other suburbs through which the boulevard is supposed to run are up in arms. The boulevard is supposed to terminate at a point in Pennypack Park, northwest of Holmesburg, but many years will elapse before it does. Frankford business men are suffering the same as those in Tabor, and it is probable that before long a general indignation meeting will be held.

Frankford citizens anxious to see the work completed received the same response to their requests that greeted other indignant citizens.

"It is the general opinion of the residents of the northeast," said Vice President William R. Horn, of the Frankford Business Men's and Taxpayers' Association, "that the politicians who purchased large tracts along the line of the supposed improvement secured what was coming to them and then lost interest in the project. The present state of the boulevard is a disgrace to Philadelphia. Weeds, washouts and holes mark the line of the proposed avenue and bridges over the Newtown, North Penn and New York short line railroads have been completed, but the approaches are not made.

"The boulevard is in the same condition. Instead of completing one thing at a time in an attempt to make a city beautiful, the scheme seems to be to tear down buildings to give favored contractors work, thereby destroying what beauty may be in the city. Our association received a promise that the boulevard would be completed to Castor road and Oxford pike by last November, but nothing has been done."

As a part of the Northeast Boulevard plan the city recently secured an option on a large tract of land north of the finished portion of the avenue. It is the intention of the Mayor to increase the area of Hunting Park.

AUTO KILLED LITTLE GIRL.

Run Down as She Attempted to Cross Old York Road.

While attempting to cross Old York road, near Green lane, Branchtown, shortly after noon Friday, six-year-old Carrie Ridgeway, daughter of John Ridgeway, a printer, of No. 6176 North Bouvier street, became confused by a passing trolley car and an automobile, and, stepping in front of the latter, was knocked down and fatally injured. Hastings Ellis, of No. 125 North Sixth street, who was driving the machine, picked up the little girl and sped away with her in the auto as rapidly as possible to the Jewish Hospital, where she died soon after her arrival. It was found that the wheels of the auto had passed over the little girl's chest, crushing it badly.

Ellis was arrested by Policeman Shyer and later taken to the Central Station for a hearing. Magistrate Beaton ordered him held without bail, awaiting the action of the Coroner. The car is the property of George H. Stetson.

After a hearing Ellis was exonerated of all blame. The testimony was that the child ran before a trolley car and directly in front of the machine.

The season for bass and most of the game fish opened Thursday, June 15, and continues until November 30, the salmon and pickerel season running until December 31.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

RAN FASTER THAN COP SAID

Mr. Bordo Parts from His Coin Easily —Please Come to Hatboro When Feeling Flush Again.

Lambert J. Bordo, of Roslyn, Montgomery county, surprised Magistrate Beaton at the Central Police Station, Philadelphia, last Sunday when he told him that he regretted to have to contradict Policeman McBride, who arrested him on Broad street for speeding his automobile. McBride said Bordo was going at the rate of 28 miles an hour.

"I wish to contradict that," said Mr. Bordo. "The officer has made a mistake. My automobile was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour." He then smiled and said that he wished to help the officer to straighten matters out. Magistrate Beaton smiled, too, as he imposed a fine of $12.50, which was at once paid.

Mr. Bordo arrived at Broad Street Station on the Manhattan express and had previously telegraphed to his home in Roslyn asking the chauffeur to have the machine at Broad Street Station as he was in a hurry to reach his home. He jumped into the auto and was speeding up Broad street, as he himself put it, at 30 miles an hour. He intended to go through Fairmount Park, but was stopped by McBride before he had gone far along Broad street.

The next time Mr. Bordo feels like throwing away coin he might try a run in Hatboro. It helps the borough treasury and incidentally the cop and court. Come up Mr. Bordo with your smile and check book.

WARRINGTON COMMENCEMENT

Five Graduates Receive Diplomas at Pleasantville.

The Warrington public schools held their sixteenth graduation exercises on Friday evening, June 9th, in the Pleasantville Reformed church. The program was opened by a march played by Mrs. J. L. MacNair. There were five graduates. Willis Weisel, Anna Elizabeth Rutherford, Hanna Detweiler, Ruth J. McCurdy and Hettie Shaffer.

Rev. John Lentz made an opening prayer, which was followed by the salutatory, "An Undimmed Jewel." Charles Smythe, a pupil of Mill Creek school, sang a solo. Hanna Detweiler recited an essay, "Character Building."

Miss Mary Wieand, of Quakertown, sang a solo. An essay, "The Will and the Way," was given by Ruth J. McCurdy. Burkart's Orchestra, consisting of five violins and an organ accompanist rendered a classical selection. The class history was then given by Hettie Shaffer.

"The Wood Horn," was sung by four pupils of the Warrington school, Marian Kelly, Edna Kelly, Eleanor Cadwallader and Elsie Stagner. Willis Weisel then gave the valedictory, "Strive On Best." Misses Mary Wieand and Mabel Kelly sang a duet. Elizabeth B. Wiley gave a vocal trio, "Daffodils." Mary Garges, of the class of '12, gave a prophecy of the class of 1911. Ruth J. McCurdy and Hanna Detweiler then made the class presentations. I. J. Vanartsdalen, of Doylestown, delivered the address of the evening.

Robert Kelly, a member of the school board, presented the diplomas with a few appropriate remarks. Last was an address by the County Superintendent, J. H. Hoffman.

The class song to the tune of "Home, Sweet Home," was sung by the class, and it was followed by the benediction by Rev. Mr. John Lentz.

BUCKINGHAM FARMERS' CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Buckingham Farmers' Club held its regular monthly meeting on Saturday, June 10th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Thompson.

The officers to serve for the next six months were elected as follows: President, Frank Pursel; vice president, Edwin L. Thompson; secretary, Elizabeth Thompson; executive committee, A. H. Transue, Mrs. William Wilson, John Rinliker; treasurer, William Hillis; editress, Mrs. Joseph Paist; reporter, R. Randolph Pursel, followed by instrumental music by R. Randolph Pursel.

A. H. Transue said the best system to follow in fertilizing during the course of a rotation either with or without manure, and with or without the soiling crops was to use barnyard manure for corn, fertilizer for oats and wheat.

Frank Pursell said the best formula for spraying potatoes either for blight or beetle was for blight Bordeaux mixture; for beetle Paris green or lime and sulphur with arsenate of lead.

Edwin Thompson said it cost from 15 to 25 per cent more to operate a farm now than 25 years ago.

Sealers of Weights and Measures.

Following the signing by Governor Tener of the bill creating the office of Sealer of Weights and Measures in the several cities and counties of the State, several residents of the county are circulating petitions to the County Commissioners for the appointment.

It is generally believed that three officers will be appointed in the county, one by each of the Commissioners, to cover a certain portion of the county, so that the appointees may keep in close touch continually with all persons engaged in business.

The compensation or salary is not fixed by the act, but is to be determined by the Commissioners, who will fix a salary that will pay the appointees for their trouble.

"Maggie Winder," Jacob M. Winder's famous mare, of Bristol, which broke the world's pacing record for three-year-olds, two years ago, is entered in thirteen races on the Grand Circuit and other tracks this season. Mr. Winder states that his pacer is in the pink of condition and he expects her to do well this season in company with the star performers of the country. The first race in which "Maggie Winder" is entered will be in July at Indianapolis and the last at Lexington, Ky., in October.

BANKER KILLED BY TRAGIC LEAP

Harry S. Shermer, Assistant Treasurer of Germantown Savings Fund Society Jumped From High Bridge —Was Worried Over His Work and by Poor Health—His Accounts Straight.

Crushed and blood-stained, the lifeless body of Henry S. Shermer, assistant treasurer of the Savings Fund Society of Germantown, was found last Saturday morning under the shadow of Walnut lane bridge, over the Wissahickon, the highest single-span concrete structure in the world. It is believed that Shermer, his mind unbalanced by pain and worry, had deliberately leaped from the bridge into the ravine, a distance of 175 feet, some time Friday night, after having posted a letter to his wife, bidding her goodbye forever.

The body was found about 8 o'clock by Park Guard Shingle.

His head and face were crushed almost beyond recognition and on the body was a watch that had stopped at 10 minutes past 7. The letter of farewell sent to Mrs. Shermer was postmarked "Germantown, 7 P. M." The dead man had worked in his office until after 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, and it is supposed that after leaving he mailed the letter and then walked to the bridge from which he leaped to his death.

His accounts are stated to be in perfect condition by the officers of the Savings Fund Society, and there is not the least suggestion that financial difficulty of any kind could have had anything to do with his death. However, friends and relatives of the dead man state that he has been acting queerly of late and that he has worried over a fancied inability to perform the duties of his new office ever since his appointment, on June 1. He was being treated for abscesses in the ear by Dr. S. M. Smith, an ear specialist, of No. 218 West Chelten avenue, Germantown, and it is believed that the suffering occasioned by them was a contributory cause in temporary unbalancing his mind.

The dead man, who was 45 years of age, had been in the employ of the Saving Fund Society for over 25 years. He is survived by his widow, who was Elizabeth Frazer, daughter of W. H. Frazer, an insurance broker.

The tragic death of Mr. Shermer is the third among the officers of the Saving Fund Society of Germantown within the past year. Samuel G. Denniston, the president died about a year ago, and on May 16 Charles M. Spiegel, the treasurer, was killed, when a carriage he was driving was struck by a trolley car on Old York road. The death of Mr. Spiegel resulted in the promotion of William Montgomery, assistant treasurer, to his place and Mr. Shermer was given Mr. Montgomery's post.

CHURCHVILLE W. C. T. U.

On Saturday, June tenth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Worthington, occurred the annual suffrage meeting of the Churchville W. C. T. U., with a good program, presided over by Caroline Craven.

Devotions were led by Helen Saurman, who read the scripture lesson, selecting those portions which told of representative women of the Bible, and their work for the good of the people. The 23d Psalm and Lord's prayer followed. "Over the Line" was sung and minutes of a previous meeting read by Ella S. Barcalow, secretary pro tem.

The program arranged for the meeting on July first at the home of Flora Harvison will be a patriotic one. The ladies appointed will tell of the Declaration of Independence; what is our part in making our country better? and what the W. C. T. U. can do to assist in improving conditions. A sane Fourth of July will be discussed, and an oration and recitation given, with other interesting numbers.

As this is the annual business meeting dues will be paid and Helen Saurman, Flora Harvison and Laura Rhoades will nominate officers to be elected.

A number of readings were given by Madams Ella Barcalow, M. A. Lownes, Blanch D. Craven, Mary Worthington, Caroline Craven, Miss Laura Rhoades and A. B. Barcalow. All told of the improved conditions where women have been given the elective franchise. The men are realizing that they can use woman's vote to assist in passing all moral measures. The Women's Clubs need it to better conditions for women and children; the W. C. T. U. ask it to insure better home protection, while the demand for votes for women is growing so strong, a number of States have given hearings to, or favorably considered the matter the past winter.

Another victory for common sense and practical christianity was won at the Diocesan convention of the Episcopal church lately held in Chicago, when women were given a vote in church affairs by a vote of 64 to 10 by the clergy, and 33 to 5 by laity.

Mary Worthington read "The Price of a Woman," and M. A. Lownes gave a review of the States' late liquor legislation. Although the brewers and distillers secured several concessions in their favor, their most desired piece of vicious legislation fell, when the Kline bill was buried in committee, after several ineffectual efforts to pass the Senate, it having been favorably considered by the house members, who seemed willing that liquor should be peddled anywhere and license secured from the State treasurer instead of the license courts of quarter sessions.

After several musical selections and the Mizpah benediction, the meeting adjourned to partake of fine strawberries and cake served by the hostess, which were enjoyed to the strains of several popular airs.

Women suffrage party slips were signed and literature distributed.

INJURED BY FALL FROM CAR.

Michael Valentine, 13 years old, of No. 1215 Fitzgerald street, fell from a Fox Chase car at Second street pike and Coltman street, Fox Chase, last Sunday and was seriously injured. The boy's coat slipped from his arm, and in an attempt to save it from falling to the street he fell from the car. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Frankford Hospital, where an examination disclosed that he had sustained concussion of the brain and a broken arm.

IN THE ORPHAN'S COURT OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

Sur Petition to Satisfy Legacies under the Wills of Stephen Love, Sarah Love and Paul Dowlin, Sr., on land in Moreham Township.

All parties in interest are hereby notified that J. Wilbur Stokes and Andrew Boyer filed their petition in said court on the 16th day of May, 1911, setting forth that they are the owners of a farm of 123 acres and 57 perches of land in Moreham Township in said petition described, and that said land is subject to legacies contained in the will of Stephen Love admitted to probate by the Register of Wills of Montgomery County, July 6, 1822, and registered in Will Book No. 26, page 45; and to legacies contained in the will of Sarah Love admitted to probate on February 12, 1838 and registered in Will Book No. 6, page 466; and a portion of the land is subject to legacies in the will of Paul Dowlin, Sr., admitted to probate September 29, 1800 and registered in Will Book No. 2, page 173, and praying the court to direct the satisfaction of all of said legacies and charges.

The legacies in the will of Stephen Love were as follows: to——Gorman, son of Thomas Gorman, one thousand dollars; Lorena Love, son of his brother, William Love or to his legal representatives, five hundred dollars; to the children of Francis Beard, of Bucks County to be equally divided among them, or their legal representatives respectively five hundred dollars; to William Love, John Love and Sarah Love and their sister, Katharine Lows in equal portions or to their legal representatives respectively five hundred dollars; to his nephew, Andrew Love or to his legal representatives five hundred dollars; to James Williamson's daughter, Sarah, three hundred dollars, should she die unmarried and without issue the said three hundred dollars to her mother Ann Love, wife of James Williamson or to her other children in equal shares; to Sarah Allen or her legal representatives three hundred dollars.

The legacies charged in the will of Sarah Love were "all the gifts and devises given in the will of the said Stephen Love together with his legal debts and costs of administration"; and in addition thereto she charged the following legacies thereupon, viz: David Rohb or his legal representatives five hundred dollars; to Ellen Gorman or her legal representatives one hundred dollars; to Martha, wife of James McGhee or her legal representatives fifty dollars and all the residue of her estate to David Robb or to his legal representatives.

The Court thereupon directed the Sheriff of the County of Montgomery to give notice to all the parties in interest according to law and to all parties out of the county, if any, and to all unknown parties, if any, public notice published once a week for four successive weeks in the Montgomery County Law Reporter and in the Hatboro Public Spirit, requiring the parties to appear in Court on Monday the 19th day of June, 1911, at ten o'clock a. m., to answer the prayer of the petitioners and to show cause, if any they have, why the land described in the petition should not be released and discharged from the lien and operation of the said four mortgages.

Notice of the above petition and rule is therefore hereby given to (1) Cadwalader Evans and Robert J. Evans, executors of John Evans deceased; (2) to John Barclay; (3) to John E. Kenderdine, Jesse Shay, Isaac Mann, guardian of Harriet Shay and Mary Ann Shay; (4) to George Childs or Child, John E. Kenderdine, executor of George Child or Childs, to Paul Dowlin, Guardian of Clayton and George Child or Childs, to Issachar Kenderdine and to Chalkley Kenderdine, admr. of Issachar Kenderdine; and to all other persons in interest.

13 YEAR OLD GIRL MARRIED.

Her Husband is Ten Years Her Senior—Father Gives Consent.

Luigi Firmini, who was arraigned in Criminal Court at Norristown last week for a serious offense against Letizia Flacco, a girl of 13 years, procured a marriage license this morning and they were married with consent of the girl's parents.

Firmini and the girl, who live at Jenkintown, ran off to Camden. They were brought back and Firmini was indicted. He was brought into court Monday morning and announced that he was in love with the girl and willing to marry her. The father consented and the couple after getting the marriage license, repaired to the office

Justice Egbert where Father Travi, of the local Italian Catholic church, performed the marriage. The groom is 22 years of age.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

STARCHING LINENS.

For linen articles, table linen, dresser scarfs, or sheer linen waists add a tablespoonful of starch to two gallons water, and they will iron with a stiffness like new; remember always to iron linen on wrong side first. Wash starch vessel in hot suds, never cold water; use pieces old underwear with a few buttons on to save finger nails from bruises.

TO CLEAN NET WAIST.

To clean a waist of fine net or the cheesecloth waists that are so fashionable this season, fill a two quart fruit can with gasoline, put the waist to be cleaned in this, screw the top on well and let stand over night. In the morning shake the can gently back and forth. The motion churns the dirt from the waist. If much soiled, rinse in fresh gasoline. Hang on the line until all odor has disappeared. Shake the waist well and press with a warm iron.

NEW VALLEY FORGE MEMORIAL

Tablet "To the Unknown Dead" to be Unveiled by D. A. R.

A handsome memorial "To the Unknown Dead" will be unveiled at Valley Forge this Saturday, June 17, by Valley Forge Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The memorial is in the form of a huge granite boulder in the woods, bearing a bronze tablet appropriately inscribed.

It will commemorate the scores of patriots who laid down their lives at that historic camp during the awful winter of 1777-1778.

The exercises will commence at 2 o'clock with music by the Phoenixville band and prayer by the Rev. W. Herbert Burk, of Port Kennedy. Former Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker will make the opening address and will introduce the orator of the day, the Rev. Charles H. Rorer.

Mrs. Joseph Fornance, of Norristown, Regent of the Valley Forge Chapter, will pull the string which will release the flag veiling the monument.

LIFE.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

TIMELY RECIPES

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE.

Take two cups of flour, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar, three-fourths cup of milk, and one-fourth of butter. Mix the dry ingredients, work in the butter with the finger tips and add the milk gradually. Place on a floured board and divide in two parts. Pat, roll out and bake twelve minutes in hot oven in layer cake tins. Split and spread with butter. Sweeten strawberries to taste. Crush slightly and put between and on top of shortcake. Allow from one to one and a half boxes of berries to each shortcake. Serve with cream, plain or whipped.

STRAWBERRY DUMPLINGS.

For strawberry dumplings roll out biscuit dough very thin, cut into little triangles and place in the centre of each triangle, three strawberries. Fold up the ends to meet in the centre and put each upside down in a buttered pan. Butter the surface of each and bake until brown. Serve each with a small spoonful of hard sauce or prepare a sauce as follows: Whip a small white of egg until stiff, color it with strained strawberry juice until a bright pink and sweeten with sifted powdered sugar.

FAIRY LOAF.

Four eggs, beaten separately; one and a fourth cups sugar; half a cup of butter; half a cup of sweet milk; two and a half cups of flour; one teaspoon cream of tartar; scant half a teaspoon soda; flavor to taste. Sift flour, then measure; add soda and sift three times. Cream butter and sugar lightly. Beat yolks to stiff froth and stir in. Whip whites to a foam; add cream of tartar and whip stiff. Add milk, whites of eggs and flour. Stir hard. Bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes.

SPRING LAMB.

Now that lamb is coming into the market plentifully, a few methods of preparing it may be welcome. One of the prettiest ways of serving lamb is the crown roast. Two racks of lambs are required for the roast from seven to eleven ribs in each; fasten them together in a circle and wrap pieces of salt pork over each exposed rib to keep them from browning. Remove them when the roast is done and serve with a mound of peas in the center or a bunch of parsley and latticed potatoes around the outside.

For a breast of lamb with dressing, make the dressing as you would for veal or fowl. Part the meaty skin from the ribs and fill the space with dressing, then sew up. Rub the meat with salt, pepper and a little onion juice before putting in the stuffing. If sufficient stuffing cannot be covered in this way, put it into the caul, the membrane that surrounds the intestinal organs, and lay it beside the roast.

LEG OF LAMB.

When a leg of lamb is roasted it is often boned and stuffed. The bone, however, adds greatly to the flavor of the meat, and so is best left in for ordinary occasions. Serve the leg of lamb, if boiled, with caper sauce or a white sauce to which two hard-cooked eggs chopped fine have been added.

Lamb may be eaten soon after the animal has been killed. Mutton is better to hang and ripen.

A most appetizing dish of lamb chops are prepared by boiling them, and after they are cool spread with a seasoned white sauce made very thick, using a third of a cup of butter and the same amount of flour to a cup of milk and add a few tablespoonfuls of cold boiled ham, finely chopped. When well chilled dip in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Lamb With Cream Sauce.

Cut two pounds of lamb from the back in small pieces, dust with salt and pepper and fry a golden brown in butter. Add a cup of broth or water, and cook for a few minutes, then add two tablespoonfuls of flour mixed with half a cup of sour cream and pour this over. Cook for an hour on the back part of the stove.

JELLY-MAKING TIME.

Jelly-making time will soon be here, and a word in season may prove profitable. We hear so much about good and bad luck in jelly making as in other processes of cookery, but as there is no such thing as luck we must look to science to explain the success or failure.

We find that the principle which thickens jelly is the pectin in fruit, and that some fruits have very little while others, in different degrees of ripeness, have more. In making jelly we learn that we must combine the fruits that have a large proportion of pectin with those that have little. Another element most necessary in jelly making after the pectin, is acid; a fruit that has the pectin and the acid is the ideal fruit for jelly making. Such fruits as currants, crab apple and grapes make good jelly.

Another delicate point which has had much discussion is the amount of sugar to use to a pint of juice, and how long to cook the jelly, if at all, before adding the sugar. Too much boiling after the sugar is added will make the jelly a dark color.

Juices that are diluted with water will be found to need more boiling than those undiluted. Usually fall fruits, because of the addition of water, will need about thirty minutes in all, while the summer fruits, like currants, will not take more than eight or ten.

The juices should be boiled and skimmed before the addition of the sugar, and if the sugar is well heated before adding, the process of cooking is much hastened.

It is best to boil the fruit juice alone the first half or more, of the whole time of cooking before adding the sugar.

Probably too much sugar is more often the cause of failure than any other in jelly making. To rich juices practically undiluted, an equal measure of sugar may be safely used, but when using diluted juices one-half to not over three-fourths of the measure should be used. It is much better to have too little than too much.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me.

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

JUDGING BY REPORTS FROM Norristown County Controller Jacobs believes that the office was created for the purpose of supervising expenditures of the taxpayers' money, and that he was appointed to carry out the provisions of the law.

This suits taxpayers all over the county. There is no good reason why the county should not get a dollar's worth for a dollar expended, nor should officials permit public funds to be wasted.

WORD COMES FROM PHILADELphia that the health authorities are pouring milk down the sewers because it has not been properly cooled.

The statement is made that the loss falls upon farmers, not the dealers. That is generally the way with these reforms. The cost is put upon the part least able to bear it and not in position to defend himself. Milk dealers vote in Philadelphia, farmers do not.

Farmers, must, however meet these conditions if they wish to ship milk to Philadelphia. If they properly cool their milk and the Reading Railway Company will not help by furnishing refrigerator cars, better boycott the railroad and use trolley freight even if not so convenient.

How long these dangerous conditions are to be tolerated is for the people to say.

FEASTERVILLE

The Feasterville Lodge I. O. A. M., will give a strawberry festival on Saturday evening.

The cherry crop will be quite a loss as the farmers are too busy now to pick them.

Ethel Vansant was given a birthday surprise party on Wednesday evening by her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Knight entertained a number of their friends on Saturday evening.

The storm of Sunday night blew down a cedar tree on the farm of Edward Hogeland, on Street road.

The harness sale at the Buck on Wednesday was a success. Quite a number of farmers were in attendance.

Fred Bubeck is carrying the mail for Frank Vansant, who is not fully recovered from his fall on Decoration day.

Harry Firman, employed by Hilborn, the florist, at Newtown, fell from the step of his wagon in H. Stattler's yard at Feasterville on Tuesday, and broke his arm in two places.

Workmen are preparing two rooms in the Sheriff's residence at Doylestown, for the care of juvenile prisoners. The rooms are being painted and repapered. Wash basins and toilets are to be put in each room.

Glenside and Edge Hill

Max Oberholtzer, of Harrison avenue, has purchased a Harley-Davis motor cycle.

Mrs. Walter H. Wilson entertained relatives from Philadelphia the last part of this week.

Fred V. Wunderle will spend the month of July at Chelsea, N. J., where he has taken a cottage.

One of the Roberts stores in the block near the baggage room has been rented during the past week.

George H. Snyder, of Lismore avenue, is having his house repainted. G. W. Seeley, of Glenside, is doing the work.

Warren Godfrey has sold his property at Remlu to a Philadelphia party who will take possession of same during July.

The recent storms did not do much damage in this vicinity with the exception of uprooting a few trees and shrubbery.

The class day exercises at Cheltenham high school took a good many people from our town on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fassit, of Harrison avenue, spent part of last week and the fore part of this week at Ocean City, N. J.

Mrs. Anna M. Heist spent the latter part of the week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aiman, of Chestnut Hill.

David Williams, who was seriously ill last week is much improved this week, and we trust that he will soon be able to be out.

M. H. Yeakel has about finished the house for G. Heppler on Stanley avenue and Mr. Heppler will move into same in a short time.

George E. Noll, of Philadelphia, has sold his handsome property at the corner of Geneva and Roslyn avenue, to a party from Philadelphia.

The eighth grade promotion exercises will be held at Elkins Park on Wednesday afternoon. There are several to be promoted from the local school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Purves, of Lynnwood avenue, near Woodlyn avenue, will spend the summer months at West Creek, N. J., where Mrs. Purves has relatives.

Miss Minnie Wilson, who is connected with the post office, was on the sick list the latter part of last week, but was able to resume her duties on Monday.

The military company of Carmel church, together with other companies from Philadelphia, held field manuevers and sham battles in Fairmount Park last Saturday afternoon.

E. N. Luddy, who was recently in the plumbing business in this town, reports that he is doing a nice business in Hatboro, where he has opened a business place on the main street.

Children's day exercises will be held at Carmel church on Sunday, June 25, at 10.30, when a banner attendance is expected. After this Sunday, Sunday school will begin in the morning at 9.45.

A musical and literary entertainment will be given by the Lyric club in the Lutheran church on Tuesday evening, June 20th. This should be a treat to the public, as very good talent is assured.

The graduates of Cheltenham High school from this section will take quite a large number of friends and relatives to the commencement exercises on Friday night, as there are five from Glenside who graduate.

Glenside lost to Lansdale by the score of 3 to 2, but it was through no ability of Lansdale to win the game but rather the credit of winning goes to the umpire who in the last two innings simply gave the game to Lansdale, who up until that time of the game were behind 2 to 0. Such miserable umpiring and so one sided has not been seen at any of the games and it seemed as if the umpire was afraid that Lansdale rooters would use him roughly if he did not see to it that Lansdale won. What would have been a good game and favorable to our local team was spoiled by poor decisions and such an umpire should not be retained in the League service, as it would be a detriment to the harmony of the teams. This Saturday Glenside will be at home with Doylestown and this time we will try again and perhaps do better. Glenside at present has a fine team and Saturday will see the outfield further strengthened.

GRENOBLE.

L. Ray Vansant spent Wednesday in Philadelphia.

Monroe Vansant purchased a new horse last week.

FrankScott is able to be about with the use of a cane.

Mrs. Charles Barnes and son, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday last with Miss Minnie Donahower.

Mrs. L. K. Oakford and A. J. Kindred of Philadelphia, were visitors at the home of their father here, this week.

Mrs. Carrie Lear of Solebury, has been spending this week at the home of her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spencer.

Lightning struck the residence of Harvey Scott on Sunday night, demolishing a window and scattering plaster about a bedroom. The occupant of the room escaped injury.

NEW SCHOOL BOARD OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the school board of Springfield township was held in the township building on Monday evening. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Reed M. Savin; secretary, Russell Y. Pullinger; treasurer, Harry Fallows. The present faculty was re-elected. The auditors will make their report to the board on Monday, July 3.

WANT TWO ROADS STONED.

Supervisors of Warminster township and councilmen of Ivyland appeared this week before the Bucks County Commissioners in behalf of a petition for the improvement, with State and county aid, of two roads—the Jacksonville road and the road from Johnsville to Hatboro.

LIT ENTERTAINS.

Many managers of the Republican organization were the guests of Samuel D. Lit, on Thursday, at his country residence at Meadowbrook. Part of the recreation was a base ball game, with teams captained by James P. McNichol and Clarence Wolf. Nobody was so much the worse from this as to be absent from the dinner that followed.

Abraham Unruh, of Mount Airy, has purchased the stock and fixtures of the store of C. Unruh, deceased, and will keep a first class grocery at the old stand on Willow Grove avenue.

Paul A. Putra, of Mt. Airy seminary, a member of the senior class of that institution for the coming year, was in charge of the services at Grace Lutheran church last Sunday evening. The Rev. Charles Gauger, pastor, was in attendance at the Lutheran Synod, which was held at Lancaster.

The pupils making the highest averages for the month of May in the Wyndmoor public school are as follows: Eighth grade, Harold Atkinson, 92; seventh grade, Florence Livezey, 92.4; sixth grade, Frances Sullivan, 81.2; fifth grade, Lida Jones, 90; third grade, Irwin Zimmerling, 96.5; second grade, A division, John Burton, 93.2; B division, Delmar Burk, 95.

In the recent examination of graduates of the public schools of Springfield township, held by Prof. Landis, in the Oreland school, Mary, daughter of James McCormick, of Cheltenham avenue, took the highest average (over 90 per cent.) of those graduating from the Wyndmoor school. The other graduates were Eleanor Moffett, Clarence Earnest and Norman Chute.

STUDENT DROWNS.

Samuel C. Good, of Quincy, Pa., a student at Perkiomen seminary, while swimming in the Perkiomen creek, near Palm, was seized with cramps and was drowned, on Wednesday.

HARTSVILLE

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES.

Children's day exercises by the Sunday schools of the Neshaminy of Warwick church were held last Sunday morning. The church was well filled and an interesting program of songs and recitations was rendered. The children all did their parts remarkably well. The church was prettily decorated with plants and cut flowers. The following program was announced by Superintendent G. W. Rubinkam: Prelude, March in F, by I. V. Flagler; singing, "All Hail Our Festival Day," prayer, by pastor, followed by Lord's prayer and Scripture reading; singing and exercises by thirty boys and girls; address of welcome by Carlisle Hobensack; singing by the schools, "God is Love;" exercises, "Soldiers of the King," by six children of the Warrington school; singing, "The Call of the Children;" recitation by Olive Flack, of Bridge Valley school; responsive reading; readings "What Our Church is Doing," by three girls, Anna Rutherford of Warrington, Alma Raisner of Bridge Valley, and Katie Mayer of Jamison; offertory, prayer by I. McKINLEY

We are looking forward to the marriage of another couple next week, which promises to be an unusually elaborate affair.

William Lang is reported to be progressing favorably, the boys are anxiously waiting for his return. He expects to be with us again in a few days.

The sound of the hedge clippers have been resounding through the air and the appearance of our streets have a look of neatness and taste that betokens a progressive community.

Congratulations are pouring in on the marriage of Miss Lillian Crebbins to Officer Samuel Fennimore, of the Cheltenham police force. The wedding took place Thursday at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Ogontz. The best wishes of the community are given the happy pair, who are most favorably known and respected throughout this section.

A lawn party is to be given by the fire company on Friday and Saturday 16th and 17th, promises to be one of the greatest events ever held in this village, and preparations on a large scale have been carried on by a series of committees, who have been working enthusiastically to bring the event to a record breaking epoch in the history of the fire company.

NESHAMINY

The boys and girls are busy picking strawberries on the Carrell farm. The berries are fine.

Since the recent rains a great deal of truck and berries are being shipped by trolley freight.

A few of our people attended the funeral of Rev. W. S. Bisbing at the Willow Grove M. E. church on Wednesday afternoon.

During the heavy storm on Tuesday night the tenant house on Professor Robbins' farm on the Street road was struck by lightening and considerably damaged.

Sunday school at the usual time on next Sunday afternoon at the chapel, and Children's day exercises in the evening at 8 o'clock. Pastor McDade will be the speaker.

An ice cream and strawberry festival will be held on the lawn of the chapel on Saturday evening, June 24. There will be automobiles to take a spin in, and also a goose clipping. Come and have a good time.

Henry Specht, Jr., is taking estimates on plans for a house at Langhorne for Mrs. E. C. Welsh.

AMBLER

The Methodists held a successful festival last Thursday evening.

A delightful Children's day service was held at Upper Dublin Lutheran church last Sunday morning.

Children's day will be observed in the Mt. Pleasant Baptist church and Bible school Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The final meeting of the season for the Ambler Dramatic Club was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Mary Warner.

A strawberry and ice cream festival will be held in the gymnasium of Trinity Memorial church, on Wednesday evening, June 21.

The Johnson-McDowell wedding on Wednesday evening was largely attended. See account on page 9, personal and social items.

Commencing Sunday the Sabbath school of the Methodist church will assemble at 10 a. m. and this order will continue during the summer.

Stanley Giffis, of Ambler, was found not guilty at court last week of the charge of having stolen $240 from the office of the Cruse-Kemper company, of Ambler.

Harold Stong, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stong, died Monday night in the German hospital, Philadelphia, where he had been for several weeks.

On Saturday there left the siding of the Asbestos Shingle, Slate and Sheathing company a solid trainload of 15 cars of shingles and asbestos lumber, being one consignment for Bombay, India.

Miss Margaret Beck died on Wednesday morning at her home, corner Euclid avenue and North street. She leaves two brothers, of whom Albert resides in Ambler, and one sister, Mrs. Evan Brook, of Plymouth.

Thieves entered the home of Wilmer Whittock, corner Morris road and Butler avenue, Wednesday night, by forcing one of the front windows. Besides eatables a sum of money was taken from the pockets of Mr. Whittock.

Last Sabbath morning the following persons were received into membership in the Methodist church: Mrs. Ella Steel Brown and Mrs. Anna Belle Constantine, of Ambler, and Thomas D. Andress, of Broad Axe. The following children were baptized: Albert Maynard Riley, Thomas Harris Gamble, Charles Adis Gamble and William Wilson Lee.

The commencement of the Ambler high school will be held on Tuesday evening next in Ambler opera house, and the following will be graduated: Marguerite Rahn, Charlottee Hellings, Mabel Ely, Grace Posey, Bessie Miller, Clara Stackhouse, Anna Stackhouse, Dorothy Hillemann, Mary Brown, Amber Showers, Marie Harton, Frank Kemmerer. The annual address will be delivered by Dr. Cheesman A. Herrick, Ph. D., president of Girard College. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday evening in the Ambler opera house by Rev. Charles Wadsworth, Jr., D. D.

JOHNSVILLE

Johnsville Sunday school will hold its Children's day exercises to-morrow, Sunday evening, when a fine program will be rendered. All welcome.

HATBORO HOME HAPPENINGS

CLOSE SHAVE AT CROSSING.

P. Herman, of Southampton, had an extremely narrow escape from being killed at the Byberry avenue crossing of the railroad on Wednesday evening. He was coming into the borough on a motor cycle going at a fast clip and in the position he sat did not notice that our afternoon train was leaving the station on its way to Philadelphia. It was not until he was within a few feet of the moving train that he noticed his danger and turned quickly into the yard along side of Mason's warehouse. The sudden turn threw him from the seat and the machine and himself rolled into the ditch only a short distance from the train. Several persons sitting on Will N. Thomas' porch, saw the mishap and it looked as if the man would certainly be killed. They were all badly frightened and Mrs. Thomas fainted.

COACHMAN KILLED.

George Keys, coachman for Samuel S. Thompson, president of the Hatboro National Bank, was so badly injured in a runaway accident at Norristown on Wednesday that he died Thursday morning.

Keys was driving a double team from Mr. Thompson's farm at Leonard, Chester county, to his summer home at Mt. Pocono, it requiring three days to make the trip, the first stop to be Norristown.

The police report that they thought Keys had been drinking and fell from the wagon, striking his head, from which injury he never regained consciousness.

Miss Ruth Evans is spending the week at the Delaware Water Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Leidy attended the Johnson-McDowell wedding at Ambler, on Wednesday evening.

Rev. F. C. Colby will preach in the Baptist church this Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Bible school at 10 a. m. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bothwell and family, of Atlantic City, visited relatives in Hatboro on Wednesday and Thursday, they came up in their automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Randall, of Hatboro, who were married on the 14th inst., were serenaded by a crowd of their friends. After making elegant music they were liberally treated to ice cream and cake.

In the Methodist Episcopal church next Sabbath, Rev. J. Furman Shook, at both services. Morning, at 10.45, subject, "Birds and Flowers." Evening at 7.45, subject, "A King Redeemed." Everybody welcome.

J. N. Watson, auctioneer, will hold a sale of furniture for Will N. Thomas at his residence on Byberry road, west of the railroad, Wednesday afternoon, next. Mr. Thomas will locate in another State and is selling his furniture.

William A. Jones died last Saturday at his home at Lyons Farms, N. J., in his 80th year. He was confined to the house for the past six months with Bright's disease. At one time he lived at Hatboro and is remembered by our older residents. The funeral was held on Tuesday.

The Ushers' Association of the Baptist church was entertained last Wednesday evening by Alfred Valentine, at his home near Horsham. As it was near his birthday, some young ladies accompanied the ushers, as a surprise for the host, which proved to be a success. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Dr. J. B. Carrell and Dr. William Hannum attended the banquet and outing of the Medical Alumni Association of U. of P., held at Hotel Cape May, Cape May Point, on Thursday. Special trains and trolley rides were provided for the doctors. Dr. Hannum is a member of the association, having graduated at the University.

C. F. Schreitz has placed two new signs at his reliable shop on the York road. Both signs he says are incorrect and is offering to pay $1 to the first school boy who will send the proper correction on a postal card addressing Reliable Shop. Now boys get your wits together and send in your replies by July 1st, when the award will be announced in the Public Spirit.

A fine musicale will be held in the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, June 21. Mrs. Mary Colby Harper, soprano; Miss Hazel Spier, contralto; Morrow Hart, tenor; Herbert Leswing, soprano, will be present, assisted by piano and violin soloists of local talent, also Walter Cooper, elocutionist, will be there. Proceeds for the benefit of the newly purchased piano fund.

Great excitement and indignation was caused in the borough on Thursday afternoon by the dangerous driving of a Hatboro motorist, who in the course of his crooked progress along York street, narrowly missed teams, pedestrians and other motorists. Before the upper end of the town was reached the incapacitated driver ingloriously landed against a roadside bank. He was lifted from his car and put to bed, while relatives were notified to come to his rescue. For the sake of these same respectable relatives his name is withheld this time, but he will be better for him not to repeat his dereliction in these parts. Mothers of children were gathered at street corners indignantly discussing the danger of such driving to their offspring. That a well-connected, educated man should get himself into such a disgraceful mess is shameful.

The Hatboro branch of the W. C. T. U. held a meeting at the Sunday school room of the Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon, 14th inst., at 3 p. m. In the absence of president, vice president and secretary an informal meeting was held. A resignation being received from Miss Loux, as secretary, Mrs. E. J. Amber was appointed permanent secretary. The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved. Miss Ida Clayton, delegate to the convention at Lansdale, held June 1st, gave a very interesting report of the meeting. Mrs. Amber, also a delegate made additional remarks. Mrs. Jarrett of the committee to prepare a constitution read the one prepared by Mrs. Colby and herself, which was adopted as read and the secretary was directed to copy it in the book. Some action was taken on flower mission work to be carried on the present summer by a committee of the whole. The meeting adjourned till September 13th, 1911 at 2.45 p. m. at the Sunday school room of the Methodist church, when it is hoped more will join.

Ivyland and Breadyville

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES.

The Children's day exercises of the Ivyland Sunday school were held in the church last Sunday evening. The decorations were many pretty cut flowers and potted plants, and two canary birds in their cages were placed on each side of the platform. Their music added much to the programme, which was as follows: Organ voluntary, song by the school, invocation by the pastor, Rev. B. M. Gemmill; greeting, by Elizabeth Cornell; devotional exercises by the pastor, singing by the school, recitation, "June Beams," Ethel Hobensack; exercise by primary boys, "In the Land of Darkness;" song by three girls, "Gather the Roses;" recitation, "Where are You Going?" Gertrude Keyser; recitation, "In the Meadow with God," Florence Vandegrift; motion song by five girls, "Daisies in a Row;" exercise, six little sunbeams; recitation, "Help Somebody," Albert Jamison; singing by the school, recitation, "If You would be Happy," Helen Vandegrift; exercise, "The Club Organizes," class of boys; singing by three girls, "Oh! Happy Hours;" address, on "Habit," Rev. B. M. Gemmill; anthem by the choir. The superintendent W. H. Barton, then made a few remarks and the offering was then taken. Mission of the flowers, by a class of girls. Good-night song by several girls; the doxology was then sung, and Mr. Gemmill made the benediction.

Miles Terry still continues seriously ill.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

A successful year at the Hatboro High School reached its culmination on Friday evening last, when a merry class of eight, six girls and two boys, received their diplomas in Loller Hall, which was filled to the doors, many standing in the aisles and on the fire escapes. The late comers were unable to see the exercises and were compelled to return home. The members of the class acquitted themselves ably in the presentation of their orations, which were full of wit, good humor and originality. The hall was gaily decked with the class colors, blue, gray and gold, and numerous H. H. S. banners, and a profusion of palms, ferns and carnations helped make an attractive setting for the young people who were seated on the stage.

Will N. Thomas, President of the School Board, presided. "Does it Pay," was a fine essay delivered by Clifford L. Fenton. The Class Pictures were presented by Alice V. Kearns in an amusing manner. A recitation, "Rebecca's Graduation," was clearly given by Katherine B. Brooks. The Class Prophecy was read by Sophy Helene Hodges. "Flowers in Poetry" was an able essay delivered by Laura Weld. The Class Legacies was read by Marie Yerkes. The most amusing feature of the program was the Presentations, disclosed by Mary B. Stone, which aroused much merriment as she gave each of her classmates gifts showing personal characteristics. The valedictory address, "Napoleon" was recited by H. Earle Twining.

Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, who was announced as the orator, was unable to attend, much to the regret of the large audience present. Rev. F. C. Colby kindly consented to take Mr. Shaw's place. His address was a bright and helpful one, in his characteristic style, and was much appreciated by the class and his hearers.

On behalf of some of the citizens of the borough, Mr. Colby presented to Samuel J. Garner, who has been in the school board for twenty-five years, and has done much to bring the school to its present high standard, a cane as a token of esteem from his townsmen. It was received by his son, Howard, Mr. Garner being unable to be present.

The graduating class presented a bust of Shakespeare to the High School. With a few timely words of commendation and advice, the diplomas were presented by Mr. Thomas. Prof. Carl also made some remarks. After a school song, the benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. P. Shook.

David Jarrett has had his house repainted on the County Line.

C. K. Crouthamel spent Saturday with his parents at Hatfield.

Mrs. Mary Adams, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday with Miss E. Lukens.

Barton Quirk returned from Lehigh University on Thursday of last week.

Miss Emma Hobennack was the recent guest of Miss Elizabeth Walmsley.

Hatboro Building and Loan Association held its meeting last Monday evening.

The house occupied by Britton Hammon, on Montgomery avenue, has been repaired.

Some repairs have been made to the residence owned by the Reading Railway Company.

The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon.

Alpheus Reu and wife, of Germantown, spent Sunday as the guests of John Lindsay and wife.

John B. Quirk and family left for Somers Point, N. J., where they will spend the summer in their cottage.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Mary Kerbaugh, this Friday evening.

The porch on the front of the Heaton mansion, on York road below the Cut-off railroad has been repaired and reroofed.

C. C. Moore is having the bar rooms and many of the other rooms of his hotel repapered and decorated in attractive style.

Mrs. Charles Betts and Joseph Heacock and family are out for the summer at their country home on the County Line.

At the cake, candy and ice cream sale held by the Farther Lights Society of the Baptist church last Saturday afternoon and evening about $32 was cleared for the benefit of the piano fund.

The funeral services over the body of the late Henry D. Taney, was held at the home of Postmaster Watson, Friday afternoon of last week. Rev. J. P. Shook spoke. The family drove to Norristown where interment was made in the family lot in Montgomery cemetery.

F. W. Blakemore, of Philadelphia, on Monday took possession of the store lately run by J. B. Wescoat. Mr. Blakemore, the new proprietor, has had considerable experience in the grocery business, and hopes by strict attention to his store to build up a good trade.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN THE M. E. CHURCH.

Every pew was filled in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, when the exercises of the Sunday school was rendered. The church was decorated with wild and cultivated flowers and foliage plants and presented a beautiful appearance. An interesting program was rendered, entitled "Voices of Nature" by the children under the direction of Miss Elsie Jones and others. The recitations, drills and musical selections were very well given. An address was given by Rev. F. C. Colby and prayer was offered by Charles C. McNair, superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school.

Stephen W. Mason was laid up several days this week with an attack of quinsy.

The gas mains of Byberry avenue are being extended to the residence of Hadgon Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Todd left on Wednesday for Rockaway, N. J., to spend several days.

Harry Mitchell and sister, of Philadelphia, spent Friday and Saturday with friends in the borough.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tomlinson, of Byberry avenue, entertained relatives from Langhorne on Saturday.

Samuel Buckman and Clifford Fenton attended class day exercises at George School on Wednesday evening.

The business meeting and social of the Epworth League of the M. E. church was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Snyder on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Virginia M. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. David Musselman, of Germantown, spent Tuesday afternoon with relatives in Hatboro.

The handsome new residence of Dr. William J. Lentz, at Chelsea, Atlantic City, is approaching completion. The owner expects to be able to get in the early fall.

Mrs. Frank Leaser and daughter, Madelena, of Philadelphia, are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Edward Spade, of Moreland avenue, for a few weeks vacation.

Charles Weaks and Miss Emma Boyd, of Philadelphia, were married at the bride's home on Wednesday afternoon of this week. Misses Keziah Weaks, Mary Weaks and Anna Fluck attended the wedding.

The annual concert, given by the Sloan-Bruner Studio Music, at Lansdale, on Monday evening was attended by Alice Kearns, Mrs. Henry Hungerford and daughter, Laura, Bertha Tomlinson, Anna Logan, Samuel Buckman and Herbert Mattinson, of Hatboro.

Herbert P. Willett, of Philadelphia, is having hardwood floors and handsome wall decorations placed in the mansion on his farm. Hot water heat has been installed and everything has been placed in fine order. The building inside and out has been repainted. It is now one of the most attractive properties in the borough.

President Reading, of the Hatboro Business Men's Association, announced the appointment of the following committee, James F. Hallowell, Thomas B. Cromley, J. M. Walmsley, Penrose Robinson, Reuben Hockman, W. W. Wilgus, Charles Deckleman, Carl Garner and George W. Flavell, this committee is to confer with a committee of the Enterprise Fire Company in reference, to the entertaining of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association, which is to meet in Hatboro, some time in October.

BASE BALL.

NORTH PENN LEAGUE.

Ambler defeated Quakertown in a ninth-inning rally by the score of 3 to 2. The game was hotly contested.

Perkasie defeated Doylestown by the score of 7 to 2. Opportune hitting was the cause of Perkasie's success.

Glenside again met defeat at Lansdale in a close game. Score 3 to 2. Glenside has not won a game since the season has opened, but the boys are playing good ball, but luck breaks against them.

TWIN COUNTY LEAGUE.

Sellersville won in the ninth inning scoring 2 runs in the final stanza. Score 2 to 1 in a hot game with Lansdale.

Souderton was defeated by North Wales in a one-sided game, score 20 to 1.

BUCKS COUNTY LEAGUE.

New Hope defeated Yardley by the score of 10 to 6. Wise and B. Harding's hitting was the feature.

Newtown completely outclassed Ingersoll, winning easily by 11 to 2. Claude Yerkes, Gee and McCarty led in the batting.

The American Bridge Company was defeated by Morrisville by the score of 16 to 6. The heavy hitting of the cartown boys featured.

OTHER GAMES.

Telford defeated the K. of M. team, of Ambler, by the score of 13 to 7.

Olney won an uninteresting game from Deemer, 14 to 9. Cororall's hitting was the only feature.

Oak Lane shut out the Eclipse club, 19 to 0.

The South Philadelphia Giants won a sensational game from Cheltenham, score 3 to 2.

Fort Washington won from Germantown in a Montgomery County League, score 6 to 5.

Somerton received its first defeat of the season, being defeated by the North East Professionals by the score of 6 to 5.

Beginning July 1, postmasters of the following county places will each receive an increase of $100: Ambler, Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, Cynwyd, Merion Station, Pottstown, Schwenksville, Wyncote. Reductions of $100 in salary include the postmasters of the following: Ogonts and Rosemont.

SANE 4TH FOR JENKINTOWN.

At a public meeting held in Jenkintown last Saturday night, prominent citizens of the borough were organized into committees to raise funds and plan a "safe and sane" observance of the Fourth of July. The plans of observance are so far tentative, but fireworks will be debarred. There will be patriotic addresses, a complete programme of sports, and a musical entertainment. Five hundred dollars will be raised by Jenkintown citizens to defray expenses. The committee of Councilmen are Messrs. McConnell, DePuy and Prentzel, and Finance and Citizens' Committees have been named.

FINE NEW FIRE ENGINE.

Last Saturday the Independent Fire Company received its new motor fire-fighting apparatus. It is fully equipped with chemicals, ladders, 1000 feet of hose and with a horsepower sufficient to drive the machine 40 miles an hour over suburban highways, loaded with equipment and carrying a 10-man fire-fighting crew.

This is the second motor fire apparatus for Jenkintown, as the Pioneer Company has been so equipped for some time.

Both companies will still retain their old forms of apparatus, it will be held in reserve for fires in which the two motor equipments may not be sufficient.

Alfred Kohl has recovered from measles.

Mr. Smith is a son of Dr. C. B. Smith, Newtown, and after graduating at George School at the head of his class he has kept high rank at State, during the four-year course and is rated as the best student in his class. He has been tendered a lucrative position on the large fruit plantation of W. W. Farnsworth, Toledo, Ohio.

JOHNSON—McDOWELL.

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, June 14th, at six o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. William T. McDowell, of Ambler, gave their daughter, Ella Jones, in marriage to William M. Johnson, who is in the employment of J. Watson Craft, lumber merchant, of Ambler. The bride and groom are both popular young people of Ambler, and after their honeymoon will reside with the bride's parents in that borough. Miss Sadie Worst, of New Hope, played the wedding march. The ring ceremony was used. The happy couple were united in holy matrimony by Rev. George J. Crist, of the Ambler Presbyterian church, before a large assemblage of invited guests in the east parlor of their home on Buehl avenue. Howard Dager, of Ambler, was best man and Miss Ethel McDowell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was given away by her father. After the wedding a sumptuous dinner was served by Caterer Leedom, of Philadelphia. The young couple left on their wedding tour to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and points of interest in Canada. Many handsome wedding gifts were received by the happy couple, including a beautiful hand-painted after-dinner set from the members of the Lansdale-North Wales embroidery class of which the bride is a member. This organization gave her a farewell party last week.

Mr. Johnson is the son of Mrs. Sarah Johnson and the late Augustus Johnson, of Boyertown, is bookkeeper for J. Watson Craft, and is one of the auditors of the borough of Ambler and a director of the Ambler Building and Loan association.

LEIDY—MILLER.

A pretty wedding took place at the residence of Alexander Miller, Sr., Blue Bell, on Wednesday evening, June, 7th when his daughter, Anna Mary became the bride of Rev. Harvey Moyer Leidy. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edgar Vincent Loucks, pastor of Boehm's Reformed church.

BARTGES—ALTHOUSE.

W. C. Bartges, of Ambler, and Miss L. Estelle Althouse, of Perkasie, were married at 5 o'clock Thursday at the home of the bride by Rev. Dr. S. E. Moyer, of the Perkasie Reformed church. Mr. Bartges, whose parental home is at Aaronsburg, Centre county, is bookkeeper of the First National Bank of Ambler.

NOTICE TO BE GIVEN TAXPAYERS IN COUNTY

Collectors to be Reimbursed for Expenses Incurred.

Provision is made by an act of assembly approved recently by Governor Tener for tax collectors of the Montgomery county to notify all the taxables whose names are on their duplicates of the amount of taxes they are liable to pay when due and other data within 30 days after they receive their books. The notices are to be mailed and the collectors are permitted to retain from the moneys they collect the amount of their expenses.

The allowance must be approved by the various boards of the districts for which the collections are made. The only requirement of the collectors is the filing of affidavits as to the expenses incurred in the performance of the task. Following are the provisions of the act:

Be it enacted, etc., That each tax collector of the several boroughs and townships of the commonwealth, with, in 30 days after receiving the tax duplicate shall notify every taxable whose name shall appear on such duplicate. Such notice shall contain the rate of taxation, the valuation of the property of such taxable, the occupation of such taxable and the full amount of taxes for which said taxable shall be liable for the current year. Such notices shall further state that such taxes are payable, shall designate a place and time or times, and when they shall be paid and shall further state the time within which an abatement of tax will be allowed, when the full amount of tax will be collected and when an additional percentage will be added as penalty. Such notice shall be mailed to the last known postoffice address of each of said taxables.

It shall be lawful for the said tax collectors to retain, out of the respective taxes collected by them each actual printing and postage expenses as shall be incurred by them in performing the duties herein prescribed. Such amounts so retained shall be adjusted by the respective boards receiving such taxes.

Harry Mackey, convicted in Norristown court, of committing an assault and battery upon his wife and daughter, was on Saturday sentenced to three months in jail.

Victor Herbert, musician and composer, was made a doctor of music by Villanova College on Wednesday. The degree was conferred at the commencement exercises. This is the first degree Mr. Herbert has received and the first time it has been conferred by the college.

Captain W. W. Frazier last Saturday entertained his comrades of Civil War days at Overlook Farms. The event was the annual reunion of the famous Sixth Pennsylvania Lancers' Association—a reunion which takes place each year on the Saturday nearest the anniversary of the battle of Beverly Ford, one of the sanguinary fights of the Civil War. Mr. Frazier does everything possible to make the event notable and interesting to the band of men which is steadily becoming smaller each year. The veterans came from Philadelphia by train shortly after 1 o'clock, and were met at Willow Grove by carriages from the Overlook estate.

His son, Robert, who fell at the same time, had an arm broken in two places also badly bruised and is in a serious condition. The accident was due to the scaffold collapsing.

GIRL OF 11 ACCUSES MAN OF 60

He Denies Charge, and Is Held in Bail for Further Hearing.

James Kelly, 60 years old, who gave Wilmington, Del., as his address, was on Tuesday held under $800 bail for a further hearing by Magistrate Wrigley in the Branchtown Police Station, charged with attacking 11-year-old Marie Wismor, of 143 East Rockland street, Olney.

Kelly denied the accusation and asked for time to prove an alibi. At the time the attack was said to have occurred he declared he was in the office of D. J. McNichol, Torresdale, endeavoring to obtain employment. The little girl was positive in her identification. The alleged attack is said to have occurred at Second street pike and Wyoming avenue, while the child was carrying lunch to her sister in a pottery works in Olney.

SON DIES SOON AFTER FATHER WEDS

James Rawle Wedded at 10 A. M. at Wyncote—Francis W. Rawle Died at Noon at Bryn Mawr.

Francis William Rawle, a prominent lawyer, died Monday at his home in Bryn Mawr, two hours after his father James Rawle, the president of the Brill Car Company, had married Mrs. J. Dennis Meredith at Wyncote. Mr. Rawle had been ill nearly two weeks and had greatly improved until Monday when he took a turn for the worse and succumbed to a blood clot on the brain.

The improvement in his condition had been so satisfactory to his physicians and family it was not thought necessary to postpone the wedding, which took place at 10 o'clock, in All Hallows Episcopal church, the Rev. James Biddle Halsey officiating.

The immediate members of both families were all who were present—12 in number. They came in automobiles to the church during a downpour of rain, which was unabated until the ceremony was ended. The bride was attired in a quiet tailor-made costume. Originally the wedding was scheduled for noon, but the plans were changed on the eve of the ceremony, and it was decided to have it take place in the morning. Mrs. Rawle before her first marriage was Miss Emily Lycett.

After the wedding the party returned to the home of Mrs. Horace G. Lippincott, Jr., Mrs. Rawle's daughter, at Wyncote. Here they received the news of the death of Mr. Rawle's son. The wedding trip which had been planned was immediately called off and Mr. Rawle left for Bryn Mawr.

MAN CHARGED WITH ELOPING WITH A HILLTOWN GIRL

Harrison W. Dannenhower Brought Charge Against Francis Powell, Who is Also Charged With Attempting to Kidnap His Own Child

Confronted by Harrison W. Dannenhower and his wife, of Hilltown, Bucks county, who charged him with eloping with their daughter, Francis Powell, of North Wales, made no defence before Magistrate Boyle, in the Thirty-ninth street and Lancaster street station, Philadelphia, Monday morning, either to that charge or to the one of assault and battery and attempted kidnapping upon which he was arraigned.

The charge grew out of an attempt on the part of Powell to obtain possession of his seven-year-old daughter, Evelyn, by taking her from her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Colesworthy, 733 North Fortieth street, Philadelphia, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Colesworthy and her daughter, Isabelle, together with Evelyn Powell, were returning from the West Hope Presbyterian church, Preston and Aspen streets, when the throngs of church people on Preston street were thrown into considerable excitement by a collision between an automobile and a milk wagon. During the excitement, Powell and another man approached the group and Powell is alleged to have roughly seized Mrs. Colesworthy in an effort to break her hold on the child.

Both Mrs. Colesworthy and her daughter resisted and it is alleged that Powell struck them. Van Horn, a police sergeant, attracted by the collision, arrested Powell, whose companion got away.

At the hearing Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. Dannenhower appeared to press a claim of $80 board against Powell. Mrs. Dannenhower said that last August Powell and the little girl had gone to their home and engaged board, Powell saying his wife was dead.

"And he stole my daughter, Letty, and ran away with her," declared Mrs. Dannenhower. Powell was held in $600 bail on the charges of assault and battery and attempted kidnapping.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

TIMELY TOPICS OF PLANTS AND PESTS DISCUSSED WEEKLY

By H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of Pa.

H. A. SURFACE REAPPOINTED ECONOMIC ZOOLOGIST.

Governor Tener has reappointed Prof. H. A. Surface as Economic Zoologist in the Department of Agriculture for the next four years. Upon this subject the Williamsport Sun has recently commented editorially as follows:

"The reappointment of Prof. H. A. Surface to be State Economic Zoologist, for four years more, is a matter of great satisfaction, as well as of extreme importance, to this section of the State, which is just coming into real appreciation of what Professor Surface's magnificent work is doing, and what it is worth. The information disseminated by him for the benefit of the fruit growers, the methods of tree treatment prescribed by him, and the care and intelligence given all queries submitted to his department, stand both for value and appreciation. No other one thing that has come to pass out of Harrisburg recently, so far as this section of Pennsylvania is concerned, is of more importance than the reappointment of State Zoologist Surface."

FOWLS NOT INJURED BY SPRAYING.

The combination of poultry keeping and fruit production has been found quite attractive and practical by many persons who, however, have learned that it is necessary to spray their trees in order to obtain best results. Such persons have been quite anxious about the possible danger of injuring their fowls kept under the trees. In reply to a recent inqury by one of our practical citizens, Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, wrote as follows:

"Replying to your very important inquiry concerning the possibility of your fowls being injured by spraying the trees with arsenate of lead for the Codling moth in the enclosure in which they are kept, I can say that I am frequently asked this question, and must assure you that I am satisfied no injury will come from such application.

"In the first place, you should not use enough of the poison liquid to saturate the grass or soil beneath the trees. We stop spraying as soon as it commences to drop from the leaves, and before they are drenched. The small amount of poison that would fall with the drippings will not cause injury, even if the fowls could get it. I should avoid contaminating the water in the drinking pans, but otherwise it appears to me that there is no danger in this regard. I have known many persons to spray their trees in poultry yards and have never heard of bad results.

"I think a combination of poultry and fruits is very good. Plums do especially well in poultry yards, as the fowls destroy the Curculio, which makes the wormy fruit, and the trees in turn are kept vigorous by the fertilizing droppings of the fowls. In fact, any kind of fruit will do well and is advisable in a poultry yard.

"The fowls catch certain insects that are objectionable and fertilize the soil. The trees furnish shade, and the premature fallen and overripe fruits can be eaten by the fowls. Of course, in proper horticulture the good fruits are picked before they drop to the ground. Thus there is no loss from this source.

"There is no spraying during the entire year that should endanger the life of the fowls if it is properly done."

THE SPINY ELM CATERPILLAR.

Reports of insects injurious to the elm tree have been unusually numerous in the office of State Zoologist Surface, at Harrisburg, this spring. One such report sent by one of the large park trustees in this State was accompanied with specimens, as all such communications should be. The prompt reply of Doctor Surface was as follows:

"The insect which you sent to us from your elm tree is the Spiny-Elm caterpillar. This is, as you say, a voracious feeder on the elm. It will not attack your other shade trees. This larva is nearly grown, and would soon transform to a chrysalid, and in the late fall would come forth as a large black butterfly with a white lining around the wings, when it is called "The Mourning Cloak."

"It remains in hibernation as a mature butterfly during the winter, and flies again in early spring. It is not common for the larva of this insect to be so abundant and destructive as they are this year. There is an unusual outbreak of them. However, they can be controlled by spraying with one ounce of arsenate of lead in each gallon of water, which is practically the same as three pounds in fifty gallons.

"It is very important in applying remedies for leaf-eating insects to do this while they are as young as possible; or, in other words, be prompt, and make the application early. This is not only to prevent damage to foliage and trees by the pests during the delay that might ensue, but it is also to be sure to reach them and poison them while they are young and then more easily and surely killed.

"There has been a similar outbreak of larvae or caterpillars of another species on the maple trees throughout the northern part of this State, and the same remedy has proven very satisfactory in destroying them. I would recommend that your borough own a spray pump, and loan it free to any person who wishes to use it to clean up his infested shade trees. This has worked well in certain towns in New Jersey, and as a result of this plan they are becoming known for their beautiful and healthy trees."

NEW MILK LAW.

Measure Prohibiting "Watering" and Forbidding Alien Admixture Approved by the Governor.

In an interview, Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust, at Harrisburg, commented upon the new milk law, known as House Bill No. 646, which was approved by Governor Tener on the 8th day of June, A. D. 1911. This law, said the Commissioner, marks a great step forward in the interest of the householder and the honest dairyman. It puts the pump out of commission as a substitute for the good old brindle cow, and gives the town child a chance to get fair food. It drives the drug-shop out of the milk depot, and halts the deceptive thickner as it enters the door.

The law, the Commissioner adds, fixes the standard for milk-fat at 3.25 per cent and that for total milk solids at 12 per cent, these being the percentages below which milk sold for household use, and to be served in hotels, restaurants and boarding houses, may not go. This is the first law enacted in Pennsylvania in which a milk standard for the entire State has been fixed. It is worthy of note also, said the Commissioner, that the standard thus set is identical with the National milk standard governing the milk trade between the States. This standard was proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States under authority of Congress, upon the recommendation of an expert commission who had studied the milk laws of the various cities and commonwealths of the Union, as well as the composition of milk of known purity from thousands of dairy cows of all breeds and from all parts of the country.

The law interferes, however, with no fair trade in any wholesome milk or milk product. Skim milk, when clean and wholesome, may still be sold, if sold as such, for household use, and milk yielded by cows of low fat strains may easily be brought to standard by the use in the herd of cows producing fat-rich milk, or may be sold to the creamery as heretofore on the basis of its actual analysis.

The Commissioner further states that this law also improves the standard for cream, bringing up the requirement to 18 per cent., as in the National standard, and prohibits the sale as 'cream' of a mixture of cream with evaporated or condensed milk, or with any other substance having the effect of increasing its thickness or consistency. The analysis of the creams recently on sale in the State show clearly the fairness of this standard.

BANNER WHEAT CROP.

Promise that this year's wheat crop will be the greatest ever produced is given in the June crop report issued by the Department of Agriculture at Washington. Estimate by the department's experts indicate that approximately 764,291,857 bushels of wheat will be harvested in this country this summer and autumn, an increase of about 68,848,857 bushels over that garnered last year.

HORSHAM FARMERS' CLUB

Farm and Household Topics Discussed —Good Crop Prospects.

The June meeting of Horsham Farmers' Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Park, on Saturday, June 10th. President Howard Jarrett called the meeting to order about 8 o'clock. The new secretary, Alice W. Michener, read the minutes of the May meeting.

William Penrose, of the crop committee expressed the opinion that the recent rains had helped the grass crop very much, but it would probably be slim. Wheat looks well and promises a good crop.

W. J. Hallowell said he did not thing the straw would be the crop it was last year. Keiffer pears, while very full of blossoms, did not seem to be well set with fruit. A large sheaf of alfalfa grown on an orchard where the trees were loaded with apples, was shown. Mr. Hallowell said in some parts of the orchard the alfalfa was very short and he could not understand the reason. James Q. Atkinson explained it by saying that in some exposed places the clover roots were so raised from the ground last spring that the clover had no chance to make a growth especially after the dry weather came.

Elizabeth W. Ely, of the domestic economy committee, said, stains of iodine can be taken out with milk.

Martha E. Paul, of the same committee, said in washing fine china to prevent it becoming nicked, lay a towel in the bottom of the rinsing pan and also on the draining board.

John B. Park and Isaac Michener gave full and interesting reports on current topics.

James Atkinson said a crusade against the housefly should be started immediately, as it was one of the most dangerous menaces to health. No housekeeper should allow a single fly in her home. Mr. Atkinson also said he considered the passage of the reciprocity bill with Canada would be a great misfortune for our country as Canada can raise a great many things much cheaper than we can. Several agreed with him but a number of the members have expressed themselves as in favor of reciprocity with Canada.

The "Club Gazette," was read by the editress, Susan H. Jarrett.

Elizabeth W. Ely presented a paper on "Moving Pictures, Their Possibilities for Good and Evil."

Alfred Williams thinks there is money in raising pigs and also in buying them and doing them up. He has proved that he can clear $12 in each year this way. He has never tried raising sheep but those who have consider there is more money in sheep than pigs.

Henrietta S. Kinsey gave a paper on the best books for home reading.

Newton E. Wood thinks there is less danger of hay spoiling when put in the barn green that when put in wet. He knows of a farmer who makes a practice of putting in his hay somewhat green and it always comes out bright.

The meeting was held on the porch and later ice cream, strawberries and cake were served.

SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the commencement of the Southampton High School at the Davisville Baptist church, on Thursday evening of last week.

The exercises of the evening were opened by the invocation by Rev. A. W. Anderson, followed by a selection by the male quartette. The quartette generously responded to an encore after which Jesse Palzer gave an oration entitled "The Great Principle, Self-control."

Miss Edna Plumley read an essay on "The American Flag" and Martin Cornell gave an instrumental solo.

Albert Cornell gave an excellent oration on "The Blazing 'S' of Success," followed by a duet by Arthur Patterson and Harry Wolfe.

Miss Agnes Yerkes delivered the valedictory, after which Prof. Paul M. Pearson, of Swarthmore College, the speaker of the evening, gave an interesting and greatly appreciated address on "Paul Laurence Dunbar."

Superintendent J. H. Hoffman presented the certificates and diplomas after which Rev. Anderson pronounced the benediction.

The class colors were red and blue, the flower was the red rose and the motto "Know Thyself."

The high school graduates were Agnes Yerkes, Jesse Palzer, Albert Cornell and Edna Plumley while those receiving eighth grade certificates were Pauline Staeble, Frances Dobson, Howard Severns, Brinton Hogeland, Lena George, Ethel Reed, Laura Hallowell, Russell Tomlinson and Morris Yerkes.

Allen Reeves and family visited at the home of his parents over Sunday.

Mrs. Sara Fetter, of Hatboro, is spending some time with Mrs. Monroe Stout.

The Southampton Mandolin Club furnished the music at the commencement in Hartsville on Thursday night.

A special meeting of the Fire Company was held on Tuesday, June 13th and motion to buy blue flannel shirts to complete uniform for parade on July 4th was acted on.

Miss Edith Clayton has been appointed to fill the vacancy made by Miss Berger at Readingville school, and Miss Quinn, who has been teaching at The Orangemen's Home, will fill Miss Krewson's vacancy in the high school.

The community was saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Arnold Yerkes, of Washington, D. C., on June 8th. Mrs. Yerkes has been in ill health for some time, but at last report she seemed to be improving. Mr. Yerkes formerly lived in Davisville. He has the sympathy of all his friends.

The school children and improvement association are invited to parade with the fire company on July 4th and business men are asked to decorate their wagons and enter the parade. The Ivyland Fire Company and newly formed Huntingdon Valley fire company will be invited to join in the parade. Residents are requested to decorate their houses.

Considerable interest is shown in the baseball game between Woodmont and Southampton on July 4th morning. Woodmont will bring up a very strong team, well padded, and are sure of victory, however, the manager of Southampton had his lesson last 4th of July morning, is preparing for them. Gill, Leedom and Landis will be the home pitchers, while New, Flack and Jones will probably twirl for Woodmont.

Although the Lyndenhurst baseball team was composed of very young men they gave our team a hard tussle on Saturday. The score ending 5 to 2 in favor of the home team, although it was only 3 to 2 in our favor until the eighth inning. This Saturday the Llanerch Club, of Llanerch, Pa., will cross bats with the home team and in view of the record of this team so far this season a hard battle is assured. This is one of the best attractions of the season, and they have assured the manager that they will clean up the home team, Gill however, disputes this statement and guarantees to prove it wrong on Saturday. Come out and find out for yourselves whether Gill is a man of his word or not.

The programme for the town's amusement on July 4th is as follows: Parade of the fire company accompanied by the fife and drum corps at 8 a. m. Baseball game between Woodmont Athletic team and the Southampton team, at 10 a. m. Baseball game between the Parrish A. A. and the home team at 3 p. m. Fire drill at 6.30 in the evening. The fire company will hold open house all day and all residents are urged to pay a visit to the fire house on that day and to bring along their visitors. The company is proud of their equipment, but do not feel that the residents show enough interest in learning how well they are equipped and take this occasion to invite them to call.

The ladies as usual are offering their services to arrange the supper to be given in connection with the fire company carnival on July 29th. Sporting events will be a running race for boys under 7 years, under 12 years and under 16 years. A sack race for boys and a running race and potato race for girls. The firemen will compete for speed prize in coupling hose and other special drills. A race with apparatus will be one of the big events. The fire company will be proportioned into two teams in charge of 1st assistant chief and 2nd assistant chief. One will take the chemical engine and the other the hand engine, both being fixed at equal weights. The race will be from the railroad crossing to toll gate, each team starting at opposite ends. H. Parker will have charge of the circus and Mr. Stockburger the wild west entertainment. The manager of the base ball team has cancelled the baseball game for that day. All sporting events will be held on the baseball field and other amusements and supper on chapel lot.

Elder Durand and daughter, Mildred, are visiting in Canada.

John L. Lefferts has moved to the village from Richboro.

The Churchville Y met at the home of Miss Sidney DuBois on Wednesday evening.

L. J. Fitzpatrick has put on a new tin roof on the residence of Howard S. Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boles, of Philadelphia, will spend the summer with Martyn Cornell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Danenhower visited relatives and friends here over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stout entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Stout and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lesher over Sunday.

Children's day services were celebrated in Churchville church on Sunday, the programme was an entire success and much credit should be given the pupils, superintendent and choir for their interest and the good music.

Rev. Dr. C. Marsh, who was pastor of the Davisville Baptist church, 26 years ago, and now of New York, will preach in the church this Sunday morning. In the evening Rev. Anderson will give an illustrated talk on Joseph, with stereopticon views, a solo with views will also be given.

Mrs. Emma Heaton delightfully entertained at a six o'clock dinner on Thursday last. Covers were laid for twelve. A beautiful bunch of carnations adorned the center of the table. Among those present were Rev. Mr. Anderson, wife and daughter, Ceola, and son, Archie, Mr. and Mrs. John Schwerer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leedom, Miss Carrie Heaton, Professor Harry Wolfe and Ernest Leedom.

Rev. A. W. Anderson is attending the great aliance convention in Philadelphia, this week. He says the number of delegates thus far attending the meeting is 3348, 384 more than were present at the convention when it met in Chicago. A committee was appointed to confer with the Presbyterian board, when it was decided that that denomination should support a missionary in one part of Persia and the Baptists one in the other part of Persia.

TREVOSE

The state board of veterinary examiners will be in session June 19 and 20. Doctor W. H. Ridge is president.

The rains of spring, until now delayed beyond the great divide in some peculiar way have brought to this section hosts of frisky frogs.

Doctor W. H. Ridge, of Trevose, and Mr. Van Norman, of Langhorne, were judges of a division of the work horse parade in Philadelphia on the tenth instant.

Our pike is in need of much attention. Ruts, mud-holes and uncovered stones make motoring a slow process, and especially dangerous after nightfall. Often do the ladies scream with fright, and men's voices rend the air with expletives of annoyance.

Nobles Charles P. Dampmann, Joseph McDade, Frank Shepard and Charles E. Schuyler, were in attendance at the Third Regiment armory, Camden, Wednesday night, together with several thousand others on a pilgrimage from New York, Brooklyn, Newark, Trenton, Baltimore and Reading. Lu Lu Temple, Philadelphia, had two thousand shriners in the parade, headed by its famous band of one hundred skilled musicians. Trenton came with the first regiment band. A number of the officers were upon camels. The banquet began at 9.30 o'clock and was continuous until midnight. At the hour of ten, many vaudeville stars, from the leading theatres of Philadelphia, Trenton and Camden, put in an appearance, and the ceremonial continued in session until after one o'clock. There were upwards of one hundred candidates for the classic degree of the Mystic Shrine.

The Trevose Athletic Association team won the game of ball on the 11th from the Hancock A. A., of Philadelphia, Score, 9 to 7. For Trevose, Terry and Worthington, pitchers. VanSant, catcher. Opposing nine, Jones and Casey, pitchers. Kling, catcher. Owing to the extreme heat a change of pitchers was necessary on both sides. Lingerman, at short, got away with some difficult plays, as usual, but had a narrow escape with a curious grounder by which an ear might have been badly injured. Cavis, a new find for Trevose, played a brilliant game throughout. Edward B.
